THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

PUBLISHER'S PREFACE.

The 1889 issue of the Daily News Almanac and Political Register is the fifth volume of the series, the first having been issued in 1885. With each succeeding year the work has increased in volume, completeness, and accuracy. No care, labor, or expense has been spared to make the present issue not only as accurate as possible but to produce a political manual that shall commend itself e pecially to the people of the West. Unusual space is this year devoted to the tariff, as a subject of constantly widening int rest. In compiling the electoral returns the vote of the elector receiving the largest number of votes upon each ticket has been given. In many of the states certain electors have received from ten to fifty votes more than the others on the ticket, and the rule has been adopted of crediting each party with its largest vote. This wi l account for an occasional slight discrepancy in the returns, the county officer giving the vote for the head of the electoral ticket, while the Secretary of State may give the highest vote received by any elector, or vice versa.

In Alabama and Virginia it has been impossible to give the Fisk vote by counties, owing to the failure of the Secretaries of State to so make their returns to the editor of the Daily News Almanac, although particularly requested to do so.

No one not personally familiar with the labor of compiling within the short space of sixty days the great mass of statistics in such a volume as this can appreciate the magnitude of the task. The present issue, like its predecessors, has been comp led by George E. Plumbe, A. B., LL. B., of the Daily News editorial staff, whose special abilities for so exacting a work have never been more conclusively shown than in the present volume.

The Daily News Almanac is again submitted to the critical judgment of a discriminating public.

Comparison of Tariffs.

Principal Schedules from 1789 Carefully Examined.

No other subject in American politics has been so often and so continuously debated as the tariff. It is not surprising, therefore, that the rate of duties upon imports into the United States has been changed no less than fifty times since the establishment of the government. But omitting minor changes, of which there have been as many as three in one year, the different tariffs adopted by congress may be classed under eleven heads, viz.:

1. The Hamiltonian or federalist tariff, the first adopted, signed by President Washington on July 4, 1789, and amended many times in the following twenty-three years and generally by higher rates. It was suspended for a time by the "embargo" of President Jefferson, which practically prohibited all trade with Europe. Under this tariff duties on luxuries were 15 per cent and on food and necessaries of life 7½ per cent.

2. The war tariffs of 1812-15, nominally modcrate, but made prohibitory for a time by the British blockade.

3. The Lowndes-Calhoun tariff of 1816, avowedly protective and designed "to preserve those industries called into existence by the exigencies of the war and by the blockade."

4. The first "Clay tariff," sometimes called the "republican tariff" of 1824, raising the rates of 1816 and adding many articles produced in the newer states. This was the first tariff levying duties on wool.

5. The tariff of 1828, the highest before the war, denounced by its enemies as "the tariff of abominations."

6. The "modifying tariff" of 1832, designed to "correct the inequalities" of that of 1828.

7. The compromise tariff of 1833, designed to pacify the nullifiers of South Carolina and providing for taking off one-tenth of the higher duties each year, until all should reach a uniform rate of 20 per cent.

8. The whig tariff of 1842, adopted on the plea that the treasury was empty and manufactures prostrated and designed to be both for revenue and protection.

9. The Polk-Walker tariff of 1846, abolishing all existing duties and providing for a lower scale of duties on what was alleged to be a "scientific plan." The rates averaged about 22 per cent, if luxuries be included.

10. The democratic-republican, or second compromise tariff of 1857, reducing the rates of the Polk-Walker tariff on the plea that the revenue was excessive.

11. The Morrill tariff of 1861, the first tariff providing for a general system of compound and differential duties, specific and ad valorem, and making differences between goods imported from different parts of the world. This tariff was frequently raised during the war, revised in 1866, 1867, 1869, and 1870, reduced 10 per cent in 1872, raised to the old rates in 1875, and slightly reduced in 1883, the result being the present tariff. It has been avowedly protective throughout. Under this tariff the duties were in 1887 60½ per cent on food and necessaries and 42¾ on luxuries—a complete reversal of the first tariff of 1789.

The student of American tariff legislation should keep constantly in mind the fact that, until 1879, the tariff question was always complicated with the questions of banking and currency, and that a change in the one often produced results now erroneously charged or credited to the other. While there have been eleven general tariffs and some forty minor changes under the general heads, there have been no less than eight distinct systems of currency and banking, which may be thus titled: The Hamiltonian United States bank era, 1789 to 1811; the Madisonian state bank era, 1811 to 1817; the Clay, etc., United States bank era, 1817 to 1836-7; the Jackson-Benton "hard-money" experiment, 1837 to 1841; the general state bank system, 1841 to 1862, the greenback and national-bank system with suspension of specie payments, 1862 to 1879, and the era of "equalization" of coin and paper, from 1879 to the present. The student who attempts to study the currency alone finds his scientific conclusions constantly set at naught by the facts—the interfering factor is the tariff. If he attempts to deduce general conclusions on the tariff from admitted facts he is perpetually thwarted by revulsions due to the currency. If he attempts to combine the two in one he is still often perplexed in forming correct conclusions.

WOOL was never tariffed before 1824, then the rate was put at 30 per cent; in 1828 at 50 per cent; in 1832 at 4c a pound and 40 per cent, and then slowly reduced to 24 per cent in 1857. In 1861 another rise began. In 1867 an exceedingly complicated schedule was adopted—mixed, specific, and ad valorem—so the rate may be averaged at 40 per cent till 1883, when it was again reduced.

On manufactures of wool the rates averaged 20 per cent higher. It is not possible to analyze the various percentages, or reduce the specific duties to per centages, for all the variations of price and duty; but the following list illustrates them, as it shows the successive percentages on woolens "not otherwise enumerated" under all the tariffs from 1789 to 1883: Percentages—25, 20, 33, 33½, 40, 45, 50, 44, 38, 29, 40 (in 1843), 30, 24, 37, 48, 64, 85, 75, 60, and finally at or about 50 per cent in 1883.

Ready-made clothing in like manner varies from 1789 to 1861 thus: 7½, 10, 12½, 15, 30, 50, 44, 38, 29. Since 1861 the duty has been mixed, averaging about 40 per cent ad valorem and 40c a pound. Cloaks are separately enumerated since the war, generally averaging a little more than the other articles. By the act of 1883 cloaks are put at 45c a pound and 40 per cent ad valorem, while other clothing is at 40 and 35 respectively.

SEVEN BIBLES OF THE WORLD.

The seven bibles of the world are the Koran of the Mohammedans, the Eddas of the Scandinavians, the Try Pitikes of the Buddhists, the Five Kings of the Chinese, the three Vedas of the Hindoos, the Zendavesta, and the Scriptures of the Christians. The Koran is the most recent of these seven bibles, and not older than the seventh century of our era. It is a compound of quotations from the Old and New Testaments, the Talmud, and the gospel of St. Barnabas. The Eddas of the Scandinavians were first published in the fourteenth century. The Pitikes of the Buddhists contain sublime morals and pure aspirations, but their author lived and died in the sixth century before Christ. There is nothing of excellence in these sacred books not found in the Bible. The sacred writings of the Chinese are called the Five Kings, king meaning web of cloth, or the warp that keeps the threads in their place. They contain the best sayings of the best sages on the ethico-political duties of life. These sayings cannot be traced to a period higher than the eleventh century B. C. The three Vedas are the most ancient books of the Hindoos, and it is the opinion of Max Muller, Wilson, Johnson, and Whitney that they are not older than eleven centuries B. C. The Zendavesta of the Persians is the grandest of all the sacred books next to our Bible. Zoroaster, whose sayings it contains, was born in the twelfth century B. C. Moses lived and wrote his Pentateuch fifteen centuries B. C., and therefore has a clear margin of 300 years older than the most ancient of the sacred writings.

NATIONAL ELECTIONS OF 1888.

Republican.

Adopted at Chicago June, 29, 1888.

The republicans of the United States, assembled by their delegates in national convention, pause on the threshold of their proceedings to honor the memory of their first great leader—the immortal champion of liberty and the rights of the people—Abraham Lincoln; and to cover also with wreaths of imperishable remembrance and gratitude the heroic names of our later leaders who have been more recently called away from our councils—Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Logan, Conkling—may their memories be faithfully cherished.

We also recall with our greetings and with prayer for his recovery the name of one of our living heroes whose memory will be treasured in the history both of republicans and of the republic—the name of that noble soldier and favorite child of victory, Philip H. Sheridan. In the spirit of those great leaders and of our own devotion to human liberty, and with that hostility to all forms of despotism and oppression which is the fundamental idea of the republican party, we send fraternal congratulations to our fellow-Americans of Brazil upon their great act of emancipation, which completed the abolition of slavery throughout the two American continents. We earnestly hope that we may soon congratulate our fellow-citizens of Irish birth upon the peaceful recovery of home rule for Ireland.

We reaffirm our unswerving devotion to the national constitution and to the indissoluble union of the states; to the autonomy reserved to the states under the constitution; to the personal rights and liberties of citizens in all the states and territories in the union, and especially to the supreme and sovereign right of every lawful citizen, rich or poor, native or foreign born, white or black, to cast one free ballot in public elections and to have that ballot duly counted. We hold the free and honest popular ballot and the just and equal representation of all the people to be the foundation of our republican government, and demand effective legislation to secure the integrity and purity of elections, which are the foundation of all public authority. We charge that the present administration and the democratic majority in congress owe their existence to the suppression of the ballot by a criminal nullification of the constitution and laws of the United States.

We are unconditionally in favor of the American system of protection; we protest against its destruction, proposed by the president and his party. They serve the interests of Europe; we will support the interests of America. We accept the issue and confidently appeal to the people for their judgment. The protective system must be maintained. Its abandonment has always been followed by general disaster to all interests except those of the usurer and the sheriff. We denounce the Mills bill as destructive to the general business, the labor, and the farming interests of the country, and we heartily indorse the consistent and patriotic action of the republican representatives in congress in opposing its passage.

We condemn the proposition of the democratic party to place wool on the free list, and we insist that the duties thereon shall be adjusted and maintained so as to furnish full and adequate protection to that industry.

The republican party would effect all needed reduction of the national revenue by repealing the taxes upon tobacco, which are an annoyance and burden to agriculture, and the tax upon spirits used in the arts and for mechanical purposes, and by such revision of the tariff laws as will tend to check imports of such articles as are produced by our people, the production of which gives employment to our labor, and release from import duties those articles of foreign production (except luxuries) the like of which cannot be produced at home. If there shall still remain a larger revenue than is requisite for the wants of the government we favor the entire repeal of internal taxes rather than the surrender of any part of our protective system at the joint behest of the whisky trusts and the agents of foreign manufacturers.

We declare our hostility to the introduction into this country of foreign contract labor and of Chinese labor, alien to our civilization and our constitution; and we demand the rigid enforcement of the existing laws against it, and favor such immediate legislation as will exclude such labor from our shores.

We declare our opposition to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise to control arbitrarily the condition of trade among our citizens; and we recommend to congress and the state legislatures in their respective jurisdictions such legislation as will prevent the execution of all schemes to oppress the people by undue charges on their supplies, or by unjust rates for the transportation of their products to market. We approve the legislation by congress to prevent alike unjust burdens and unfair discriminations between the states.

We reaffirm the policy of appropriating the public lands of the United States to be homesteads for American citizens and settlers—not aliens—which the republican party established in 1862 against the persistent opposition of the democrats in congress, and which has brought our great western domain into such magnificent development. The restoration of unearned railroad landgrants to the public domain for the use of actual settlers, which was begun under the administration of President Arthur, should be continued. We deny that the democratic party has ever restored one acre to the people, but declare that by the joint action of republicans and democrats about fifty million acres of unearned lands originally granted for the construction of railroads have been restored to the public domain, in pursuance of the conditions inserted by the republican party in the original grants. We charge the democratic administration with failure to execute the laws securing to settlers titles to their homesteads, and with using appropriations made for that purpose to harass innocent settlers with spies and prosecutions under the false pretense of exposing frauds and vindicating the law.

The government by congress of the territories is based upon necessity only to the end that they may become states in the union; therefore, whenever the conditions of population, material resources, public intelligence, and morality are such as to insure a stable local government therein the people of such territories should be permitted as a right inherent in them to form for themselves constitutions and state governments and be admitted into the union. Pending the preparation for statehood all officers thereof should be selected from the bona-fide residents and citizens of the territory wherein they are to serve. South Dakota should of right be immediately admitted as a state in the union under the constitution framed and adopted by her people, and we heartily indorse the action of the republican senate in twice passing bills for her admission. The refusal of the democratic house of representatives, for partisan purposes, to favorably consider these bills is a wilful violation of the sacred American principles of local self-government, and merits the condemnation of all just men. The pending bills in the senate for acts to enable the people of Washington, North Dakota, and Montana territories to form constitutions and establish state governments should be passed without unnecessary delay. The republican party pledges itself to do all in its power to facilitate the admission of the territories of New Mexico, Wyoming, Idaho, and Arizona to the enjoyment of self-government as states, such of them as are now qualified as soon as possible, and the others as soon as they may become so.

The political power of the mormon church in the territories as exercised in the past is a menace to free institutions too dangerous to be long suffered. Therefore we pledge the republican party to appropriate legislation asserting the sovereignty of the nation in all territories where the same is questioned, and in furtherance of that end to place upon the statute books legislation stringent enough to divorce the political from the ecclesiastical power, and thus stamp out the attendant wickedness of polygamy.

The republican party is in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money, and condemns the policy of the democratic administration in its efforts to demonetize silver.

We demand the reduction of letter postage to 1 cent per ounce.

In a republic like ours, where the citizen is the sovereign and the official the servant, where no power is exercised except by the will of the people, it is important that the sovereign—the people—should possess intelligence. The free school is the promoter of that intelligence which is to preserve us a free nation; therefore the state or nation, or both combined, should support free institutions of learning sufficient to afford to every child growing in the land the opportunity of a good common-school education.

We earnestly recommend that prompt action be taken by congress in the enactment of such legislation as will best secure the rehabilitation of our American merchant marine, and we protest against the passage by congress of a free-ship bill as calculated to work injustice to labor by lessening the wages of those engaged in preparing materials as well as those directly employed in our ship-yards. We demand appropriations for the early rebuilding of our navy; for the construction of coast fortifications and modern ordnance and other approved modern means of defense for the protection of our defenseless harbors and cities; for the payment of just pensions to our soldiers, for necesary works of national importance in the improvement of harbors and the channels of internal, coastwise, and foreign commerce: for the encouragement of the shipping interests of the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific states, as well as for the payment of the maturing public debt. This policy will give employment to our labor, activity to our various industries, increase the security of our country, promote trade, open new and direct markets for our produce, and cheapen the cost of transportation. We affirm this to be far better for our country than the democratic policy of loaning the government's money without interest to "pet banks."

The conduct of foreign affairs by the present administration has been distinguished by its inefficiency and its cowardice. Having withdrawn from the senate all pending treaties effected by republican administrations for the removal of foreign burdens and restrictions upon our commerce and for its extension into better markets, it has neither effected nor proposed any others in their stead. Professing adherence to the Monroe doctrine, it has seen with idle complacency the extension of foreign influence in Central America and of foreign trade everywhere among our neighbors. It has refused to charter, sanction, or encourage any American organization for constructing the Nicaragua canal, a work of vital importance to the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine and of our national influence in Central and South America, and necessary for the development of trade with our Pacific territory, with South America, and with the islands and farther coasts of the Pacific ocean.

We arraign the present democratic administration for its weak and unpatriotic treatment of the fisheries question and its pusillanimous surrender of the essential privileges to which our fishing vessels are entitled in Canadian ports under the treaty of 1818, the reciprocal maritime legislation of 1830, and the comity of nations, and which Canadian fishing vessels receive in the ports of the United States. We condemn the policy of the present administration and the democratic majority in congress toward our fisheries as unfriendly and conspicuously unpatriotic, and as tending to destroy a valuable national industry and an indispensable resource of defense against a foreign enemy.

The name American applies alike to all citizens of the republic and imposes upon all alike the same obligation of obedience to the laws. At the same time that citizenship is and must be the panoply and safeguard of him who wears it, and protect him, whether high or low, rich or poor, in all his civil rights. It should and must afford him protection at home and follow and protect him abroad in whatever land he may be on a lawful errand."

The men who abandoned the republican party in 1884 and continue to adhere to the democratic party have deserted not only the cause of honest government, of sound finance, of freedom, and purity of the ballot, but especially have deserted the cause of reform in the civil service. We will not fail to keep our pledges because they have broken theirs, or because their candidate has broken his. We, therefore, repeat our declaration of 1884—to wit: "The reform of the civil service, auspiciously begun under the republican administration, should be completed by the further extension of the reform system already established by law to all the grades of the service to which it is applicable. The spirit and purpose of the reform should be observed in all executive appointments, and all laws at variance with the object of existing reform legislation shou'd be repealed, to the end that the dangers to free institutions which lurk in the power of official patronage may be wisely and effectively avoided."

The gratitude of the nation to the defenders of the union cannot be measured by laws. The legislation of congress should conform to the pledges made by a loyal people, and be so enlarged and extended as to provide against the possibility that any man who honorably wore the federal uniform shall become an inmate of an almshouse or dependent upon private charity. In the presence of an overflowing treasury it would be a public scandal to do less for those whose valorous services preserved the government. We denounce the hostile spirit shown by President Cleveland in his numerous vetoes of measures for pension relief and the action of the democratic house of representatives in refusing even a consideration of general pension legislation.

In support of the principles herewith enunciated we invite the co-operation of patriotic men of all parties, and especially of all workingmen, whose prosperity is seriously threatened by the free-trade policy of the present administration.

[The following was added near the close of the convention:]

The first concern of all good government is the virtue and sobriety of the people and the purity of the home. The republican party cordially sympathizes with all wise and well-directed efforts for the promotion of temperance and morality.

The nominees of the convention were: For president Benjamin Harrison of Indiana, and for vice-president, Levi P. Morton of New York.

Anti-Saloon Republican.

Adopted at New York May 3, 1888.

1. We regard the saloon as the common and malignant foe of civilization and humanity. It is wasteful, vicious, and hostile to good government. It degrades the individual, ruins the family, debauches our youth, is destructive of Sunday as the people's day of rest, corrupts the ballot, fosters crime, and threatens the very existence of the republic. It has become a pernicious and demoralizing power in politics—municipal, state, and national—and is therein intrusive and aggressive. As a public enemy it ought to be abolished.

2. We have with great satisfaction witnessed the rapid growth of the anti-saloon sentiment in all parts of the country, as shown by constitutional amendments, legislative enactments, and by the fact that in thirty-four states and territories laws have been enacted requiring the giving of scientific instruction in public schools on the effects of alcohol upon the human system. The public conscience is aroused on this subject, and will be satisfied with nothing less than the suppression of this monstrous evil. The saloon is doomed and must go.

3. Recognizing the practical difficulties of legislation and enforcement, we unite upon the broad ground of active hostility to the saloon without dictating methods of procedure. The people have the right and should have the opportunity of deciding how and when the saloon shall be suppressed. It should be destroyed with the weapons that are most effective and available.

4. As members of the republican party we are proud of its glorious past, rejoice in its present vigor, and have an abiding confidence that it will prove to be the agent of divine Providence for the destruction of the saloon as it was for the overthrow of slavery. The saloon is moral slavery.

5. Speaking for an overwhelming majority of republican voters and good citizens, we respectfully but most earnestly ask our brethren of the national republican convention that is to meet in Chicago to incorporate in their platform of principles a declaration of hostility to the saloon as clear and emphatic as the English language can make it. We ask this because it is right. Right is might.

6. We earnestly invite the active co-operation of all friends of temperance in this plan of campaign, which has in it the promise and potency of the speedy overthrow of the saloon party in national affairs and the immediate crippling and ultimate extinction of the legalized liquor traffic.

Resolved, That, recognizing the fact that during the early history of the republican party, when it made the most glorious portion of its record, it had the enthusiastic support of the best women of the land, and recognizing the further fact that the help of all good women is more needed in the warfare against the saloon, we appeal to them to give a hearty support to the republican party whenever and wherever it stands for protection of the home against the saloon.

Democratic.

Adopted at St. Louis June 7, 1888.

The democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled, renews the pledge of its fidelity to the democratic faith and reaffirms the platform adopted by its representatives in the convention of 1884, and indorses the views expressed by President Cleveland in his last earnest message to congress as the correct interpretation of that platform upon the question of tariff reduction, and also indorses the efforts of our democratic representatives in congress to secure a reduction of excessive taxation.

Chief among its principles of party faith are the maintenance of an indissoluble union of free and indestructible states, now about to enter upon its second century of unexampled progress and renown; devotion to a plan of government regulated by a written constitution strictly specifying every granted power and expressly reserving to the states or people the entire ungranted residue of power, the encouragement of a jealous popular vigilance directed to all who have been chosen for brief terms to enact and execute the laws and are charged with the duty of preserving peace, insuring equality, and establishing justice.

The democratic party welcomes an exacting scrutiny of the administration of the executive power, which four years ago was committed to its trust in the election of Grover Cleveland president of the United States, and it challenges the most searching inquiry concerning its fidelity and devotion to the pledges which then invited the suffrages of the people. During a most critical period of our financial affairs—resulting from overtaxation, the anomalous condition of our currency, and a public debt unmatured—it has, by the adoption of a wise and statesmanlike course, not only averted disaster but greatly promoted the prosperity of the people.

It has reversed the improvident and unwise policy of the republican party touching the public domain and has reclaimed from corporations and syndicates, alien and domestic, and restored to the people nearly one hundred million acres of valuable land, to be sacredly held as homesteads for our citizens.

While carefully guarding the interests of the people, consistent with the principles of justice and equity, it has paid out more for pensions and bounties to the soldiers and sailors of the republic than was ever paid before during an equal period.

It has adopted and consistently pursued a firm and prudent foreign policy, preserving peace with all nations while scrupulously maintaining all the rights and interests of our own government and people at home and abroad.

The exclusion from our shores of Chinese laborers has been effectually secured under the provision of a treaty the operation of which has been postponed by the action of a republican majority in the senate.

Honest reform in the civil service has been inaugurated and maintained by President Cleveland, and he has brought the public service to the highest standard of efficiency, not only by rule and precept but by the example of his own untiring and unselfish administration of public affairs.

In every branch and department of the government under democratic control the rights and the welfare of all the people have been guarded and defended; every public interest has been protected, and the equality of all our citizens before the law, without regard to race or color, has been steadfastly maintained.

Upon its record thus exhibited and upon the pledge of a continuance to the people of the benefits of democracy it invokes a renewal of popular trust by the re-election of a chief magistrate who has been faithful, able, and prudent, and invokes in addition to that trust the transfer also to the democracy of the entire legislative power.

The republican party, controlling the senate and resisting in both houses of congress a reformation of unjust and unequal tax laws—which have outlasted the necessities of war and are now undermining the abundance of a long period of peace—deny to the people equality before the law and the fairness and the justice which are their right. The cry of American labor for a better share in the rewards of industry is stifled with false pretenses, enterprise is fettered and bound down to home markets, capital is discouraged with doubt, and unequal, unjust laws can neither be properly amended nor repealed. The democratic party will continue, with all the power confided to it, the struggle to reform these laws in accordance with the pledges of its last platform, indorsed at the ballot-box by the suffrages of the people. Of all the industrious freemen of our land, the immense majority, including every tiller of the soil, gain no advantage from excessive tax laws, but the price of nearly everything they buy is increased by the favoritism of an unequal system of tax legislation.

All unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation. It is repugnant to the creed of democracy that by such taxation the cost of the necessaries of life should be unjustifiably increased to all our people. Judged by democratic principles, the interests of the people are betrayed when, by unnecessary taxation, trusts and comb nations are permitted to exist which, while unduly enriching the few that combine, rob the body of our citizens by depriving them of the benefits of natural competition. Every rule of governmental action is violated when, through unnecessary taxation, a vast sum of money—far beyond the needs of an economical administration—is drawn from the people, the channels of trade, and accumulated as a demoralizing surplus in the national treasury.

The money now lying idle in the federal treasury resulting from superfluous taxation amounts to more than $125,000,000, and the surplus collected is reaching the sum of more than $60,000,000 annually. Debauched by this immense temptation, the remedy of the republican party is to meet and exhaust by extravagant appropriations and expenses, whether constitutional or not, the accumulation of extravagant taxation. The democratic policy is to enforce frugality in public expenses and abolish unnecessary taxation.

Our established domestic industries and enterprises should not and need not be endangered by the reduction and correction of the burdens of taxation. On the contrary, a fair and careful revision of our tax laws, with due allowance for the difference between the wages of American and foreign labor, must promote and encourage every branch of such industries and enterprises by giving them assurance of an extended market and steady and continuous operations. In the interests of American labor, which should in no event be neglected, the revision of our tax laws contemplated by the democratic party should promote the advantage of such labor by cheapening the cost of necessaries of life in the home of every workingman and at the same time secure to him steady and remunerative employment.

Upon this question of tariff reform, so closely concerning every phase of our national life, and upon every question involved in the problem of good government, the democratic party submits its principles and professions to the intelligent suffrages of the American people.

The nominees of the convention were: For president, Grover Cleveland of New York; for vice-president, Allen G. Thurman of Ohio.

Prohibition.

Adopted at Indianapolis May 31, 1888.

The prohibition party, in national convention assembled, acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all power in government, do hereby declare:

1. That the manufacture, importation, exportation, transportation, and sale of alcoholic beverages shall be made public crimes, and punished as such.

2. That such prohibition must be secured through amendments of our national and state constitutions, enforced by adequate laws adequately supported by administrative authority, and to this end the organization of the prohibition party is imperatively demanded in state and nation.

3. That any form of license, taxation, or regulation of the liquor traffic is contrary to good government; that any party which supports regulation, license, or tax enters into alliance with such traffic and becomes the actual foe of the state's welfare, and that we arraign the republican and democratic parties for their persistent attitude in favor of the licensed iniquity, whereby they oppose the demand of the people for prohibition and, through open complicity with the liquor cause, defeat the enforcement of law.

4. For the immediate abolition of the internal-revenue system, whereby our national government is deriving support from our greatest national vice.

5. That, an adequate public revenue being necessary, it may properly be raised by import duties and by an equitable assessment upon the property and the legitimate business of the country, but import duties should be so reduced that no surplus shall be accumulated in the treasury, and that the burdens of taxation shall be removed from foods, clothing, and other comforts and necessaries of life.

6. That civil-service appointments for all civil offices chiefly clerical in their duties should be based upon moral, intellectual, and physical qualifications, and not upon party service or party necessity.

7. That the right of suffrage rests on no mere circumstance of race, color, sex, or nationality, and that wherever from any cause it has been withheld from citizens who are of suitable age and mentally and morally qualified for the exercise of an intelligent ballot it should be restored by the people through the legislatures of the several states on such educational basis as they may deem wise.

8. For the abolition of polygamy and the establishment of uniform laws governing marriage and divorce.

9. For prohibiting all combinations of capital to control and to increase the cost of products for popular consumption.

10. For the preservation and defense of the sabbath as a civil institution without oppressing any who religiously observe the same on any other day than the first day of the week. That arbitration is the Christian, wise, and economic method of settling national differences, and the same method should, by judicious legislation, be applied to the settlement of disputes between large bodies of employes and employers; that the abolition of the saloon would remove the burdens—moral, physical, pecuniary, and social—which now oppress labor and rob it of its earnings, and would prove to be the wise and successful way of promoting labor reform, and we invite labor and capital to unite with us for the accomplishment thereof; that monopoly in the land is a wrong to the people, and public land should be reserved to actual settlers, and that men and women should receive equal wages for equal work.

11. That our immigration laws should be so enforced as to prevent the introduction into our country of all convicts, inmates of dependent institutions, and of others physically incapacitated for self-support, and that no person should have the ballot in any state who is not a citizen of the United States. Recognizing and declaring that prohibition of the liquor traffic has become the dominant issue in national politics, we invite to full party fellowship all those who on this one dominant issue are with us agreed, in the full belief that this party can and will remove sectional differences, promote national unity, and insure the best welfare of our native land.

The nominees of the convention were: For president, Clinton B. Fisk of New Jersey, and for vice-president, John A. Brooks of Missouri.

Union Labor.

Adopted at Cincinnati May 16, 1888.

1. While we believe that the proper solution of the financial system will greatly relieve those now in danger of losing their homes by mortgage foreclosure and enable all industrious persons to secure a home as the highest result of civilization, we oppose land monopoly in every form, demand the forfeiture of unearned grants, the limitation of land-ownership, and such other legislation as will stop speculation in land and holding it unused from those whose necessities require it. We believe the earth was made for the people, and not to enable an idle aristocracy to subsist through rents upon the toil of the industrious, and that "corners" in land are as bad as "corners" in food, and that those who are not residents or citizens should not be allowed to own land in the United States. A homestead should be exempt to a limited extent from execution or taxation.

2. The means of communication and transportation should be owned by the people, as is the United States postal system.

3. The establishing of a national monetary system in the interest of the producers instead of the speculators and usurers, by which the circulating medium in necessary quantity and full legal tender should be issued directly to the people without the intervention of banks, or loaned to citizens upon land security at a low rate of interest. To relieve them from extortions of usury and enable them to control the money supply, postal savings banks should be established. While we have free coinage of gold we should have free coinage of silver. We demand the immediate application of all the idle money in the United States treasury to the payment of the bonded debt, and condemn the further issue of interest-bearing bonds either by the national government or by states, territories, or municipalities.

4. Arbitration should take the place of strikes and other injurious methods of settling labor disputes. The letting of convict labor to contractors should be prohibited, the contract system be abolished in public works, the hours of labor in industrial establishments be reduced commensurate with the increased production by labor-saving machinery, employes be protected from bodily injury, equal pay given for equal work for both sexes, and labor, agricultural, and co-operative associations be fostered and encouraged by law. The foundation of a republic is in the intelligence of its citizens, and children who are drawn into work-shops, mines, and factories are deprived of the education which should be secured to all by proper legislation.

5. We demand the passage of a service-pension bill to pension every honorably discharged soldier and sailor of the United States.

6. A graduated income tax is the most equitable system of taxation, placing the burden of government upon those who are best able to pay, instead of laying it on the farmers and exempting millionaire bondholders and corporations.

7. We demand a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

8. We demand a strict enforcement of laws prohibiting the importation of subjects of foreign countries under contracts.

9. We demand the passage and enforcement of such legislation as will absolutely exclude the Chinese from the United States.

10. The right to vote is inherent in citizenship, irrespective of sex, and is properly within the province of state legislation.

11. The paramount issues to be solved in the interests of humanity are the abolition of usury, monopoly, and trusts; and we denounce the democratic and republican parties for creating and perpetuating these monstrous evils.

The nominees of the convention were: For president, A. J. Streeter of Illinois; for vice-president, Charles E. Cunningham of Arkansas.

United Labor.

Adopted at Cincinnati May 16, 1888.

We, the delegates of the united labor party of the United States, in national convention assembled, hold that the corruptions of government and the impoverishment of the masses result from neglect of the self-evident truths proclaimed by the founders of this republic, that all men are created equal, and are endowed with unalienable rights. We aim at the abolition of the system which compels men to pay their fellow-creatures for the use of the common bounties of nature and permits monopolizers to deprive labor of natural opportunities for employment.

We see access to farming land denied to labor except on payment of exorbitant rent or the acceptance of mortgage burdens, and labor, thus forbidden to employ itself, driven into the cities. We see the wage-workers of the cities subjected to this unnatural competition, and forced to pay an exorbitant share of their scanty earnings for cramped and unhealthful lodgings. We see the same intense competition condemning the great majority of business and professional men to a bitter and often unavailing struggle to avoid bankruptcy, and that while the price of all that labor produces ever falls the price of land ever rises.

We trace these evils to a fundamental wrong—the making of the land on which all must live the exclusive property of but a portion of the community. To this denial of natural rights are due want of employment, low wages, business depressions, that intense competition which makes it so difficult for the majority of men to get a comfortable living, and that wrongful distribution of wealth which is producing the millionaire on one side and the tramp on the other.

To give all men an interest in the land of their country; to enable all to share in the benefits of social growth and improvement; to prevent the shutting out of labor from employment by the monopolization of natural opportunities; to do away with the one-sided competition which cuts down wages to starvation rates; to restore life to business and prevent periodical depressions; to do away with that monstrous injustice which deprives producers of the fruits of their toil while idlers grow rich; to prevent the conflicts which are arraying class against class, and which are fraught with menacing dangers to society, we propose so to change the existing system of taxation that no one shall be taxed on the wealth he produces, nor any one suffered to appropriate wealth he does not produce by taking to himself the increasing values which the growth of society adds to land.

What we propose is not the disturbing of any man in his holding or title, but, by taxation of land according to its value, and not according to its area, to devote to common use and benefit those values which arise not from the exertion of the individual but from the growth of society, and to abolish all taxes on industry and its products. This increased taxation of land values must, while relieving the working farmer and small homestead owner of the undue burdens now imposed upon them, make it unprofitable to hold land for speculation, and thus throw open abundant opportunities for the employment of labor and the building up of homes.

We would do away with the present unjust and wasteful system of finance, which piles up hundreds of millions of dollars in treasury vaults while we are paying interest on an enormous debt; and we would establish in its stead a monetary system in which a legal tender circulating medium should be issued by the government without the intervention of banks.

We wish to abolish the present unjust and wasteful system of ownership of railroads and telegraphs by private corporations—a system which, while failing to supply adequately public needs, impoverishes the farmer, oppresses the manufacturer, hampers the merchant, impedes travel and communication, and builds up enormous fortunes and corrupting monopolies, that are becoming more powerful than the government itself. For this system we would substitute government ownership and control for the benefit of the whole people instead of private profit.

While declaring the foregoing to be the fundamental principles and aims of the united labor party, and while conscious that no reform can give effectual and permanent relief to labor that does not involve the legal recognition of equal rights to natural opportunities, we, nevertheless, as measures of relief from some of the evil effects of ignoring those rights, favor such legislation as may tend to reduce the hours of labor, to prevent the employment of children of tender years, to avoid the competition of convict labor with honest industry, to secure the sanitary inspection of tenements, factories, and mines, and to put an end to the abuse of conspiracy laws.

We desire also to so simplify the procedure of our courts and diminish the expense of legal proceedings that the poor therein may be placed on an equality with the rich, and the long delays which now result in scandalous miscarriages of justice may be prevented.

Since the ballot is the only means by which in our republic the redress of political and social grievances is to be sought, we especially and emphatically declare for the adoption of what is known as the Australian system of voting, in order that the effectual secrecy of the ballot and the relief of candidates for public office from the heavy expenses now imposed upon them may prevent bribery and intimidation, do away with practical discriminations in favor of the rich and unscrupulous, and lessen the pernicious influence of money in politics.

We denounce the democratic and republican parties as hopelessly and shamelessly corrupt, and, by reason of their affiliation with monopolies, equally unworthy of the suffrages of those who do not live upon public plunder; we therefore require of those who would act with us that they sever all connection with both.

In support of these aims we solicit the co-operation of all patriotic citizens who, sick of the degradation of politics, desire by constitutional methods to establish justice, to preserve liberty, to extend the spirit of fraternity, and to elevate humanity.

The nominees of the convention were: For president, Robert H. Cowdrey of Illinois, and for vice-president, W. H. T. Wakefield of Kansas.

Equal Rights.

Adopted at Des Moines May 15, 1888.

Resolved, That while we do not espouse the cause of woman's rights or man's rights distinctively and separately as such, we judge it best in the present formative state of public opinion, and as a proper balancing in the present, in view of the past, to put a woman's name at the head of the ticket.

Resolved, That history having demonstrated the fact that women in all ages have proven capable, in isolated instances, of leading armies, conquering cities, and ruling nations, and believing that we have such a one among us to-day, a woman with scope of vision, intellectual vigor, and executive ability equal to the task; one possessing, moreover, from a long residence at the capital and extensive travel, a thorough acquaintance with the state, conditions of our country, and with the magnets of its chosen masculine rulers, and who, comprehending the abuse of our times with quick intuitions, grasps the remedy; a woman who has stormed the redoubts of legal practice and prejudice and fought her right of way to stand and plead the people's cause before the bar of our highest courts; upon whose benign brow is set the signet of an infinite womanly sympathy, blended with favor.

Resolved, That we place her name at the head of the equal-rights ticket, believing Belva A. Lockwood its most fitting exponent and leader.

Believing that the disfranchisement of women has much to do with the growing influence of crime in the nation, we, the women of America, by their representatives here assembled, do pledge ourselves that if our party and candidates come into power equal rights shall be meted out to all citizens, without regard to sex or color—a fair ballot and an honest count.

We shall ask congress to pass an enabling act giving the women of this nation the right to vote in all election precincts of the United States, as women are citizens, amenable to the laws and liable to taxation.

That the settlement of estates shall be the same in the courts of joint property and in the case of the death of the wife her heirs shall receive the same consideration as those of the husband without consulting his interests. In case of the death of the husband the wife shall be administrator and guardian of her children without any process of law.

We pledge ourselves to the cause of temperance and are in favor of arbitration by international commission instead of the sword, although under the circumstances of the late war our union soldiers and sailors were inspired by the purest patriotism and principles of right. And we will demand of congress to pension them each and every one if they need help.

That we urge measures to be taken to stop the immigration of the scum of Europe and Asia to our shores, and that we protect our workingmen from cheap foreign labor by protecting our home markets and manufacturers.

That land owned by foreign landlords and wealthy corporations be heavily taxed to support the government and put sugar and lumber on the free list. And abolish taxes on whisky and tobacco, as it makes the government a partner in their excessive use—the evil of the century.

That in our candidates, Belva A. Lockwood and Albert H. Love of Philadelphia, we have every confidence in their ability, integrity, and firmness in carrying out these grand and glorious principles.

The nominees of the convention were: For president, (Mrs.) Belva A. Lockwood of Washington, D. C., and for vice-president, Albert H. Love of Pennsylvania. Mr. Love declined and Charles S. Welles of New York was substituted.

American.

Adopted at Washington Aug. 15, 1888.

Believing that the time has arrived when a due regard for the present and future prosperity of our country makes it imperative that the people of the United States of America should take full and entire control of their government, to the exclusion of revolutionary and incendiary foreigners now seeking our shores from every quarter of the world, and, recognizing that the first and most important duty of an American citizen is to maintain this government in all attainable purity and strength, we make the following declaration of principles:

Resolved, That all law-abiding citizens of the United States of America, whether native or foreign born, are political equals (except as provided by the constitution), and all are entitled to and should receive the full protection of the laws.

Whereas, There are seventeen states in this union wherein persons are allowed to vote at all elections without being citizens of the United States; and, whereas, such a system tends to place the management of the government into the hands of those who owe no allegiance to our political institutions; therefore,

Resolved, That the constitution of the United States should be so amended as to prohibit the federal and state governments from conferring upon any person the right to vote unless such person be a citizen of the United States.

Resolved, That we are in favor of fostering and encouraging American industries of every class and kind; that the issue of "protection" versus "free trade" is a fraud and a snare. The best "protection" is that which protects the labor and life-blood of the republic from the degrading competition with and contamination by imported foreigners; and the most dangerous "free trade" is that in paupers, criminals, communists, and anarchists, in which the balance has always been against the United States.

Whereas, One of the greatest evils of unrestricted foreign immigration is the reduction of the wages of American workingmen and workingwomen to the level of the underfed and underpaid labor of foreign countries. Therefore,

Resolved, That we demand that no immigrant shall be admitted into the United States without a passport obtained from the American consul at the port from which he sails; that no passport shall be issued to any pauper, criminal, or insane person, or to any person who, in the judgment of the consul, is not likely to become a desirable citizen of the United States; and that for each immigrant passport there shall be collected by the consul issuing the same the sum of one hundred dollars ($100), to be by him paid into the treasury of the United States.

Resolved, That all persons not in sympathy with our government should be prohibited from immigrating to these United States.

Resolved, That the naturalization laws of the United States should be unconditionally repealed.

Resolved, That the soil of America should belong to Americans; that no alien non-resident should be permitted to own real estate in the United States, and that the realty possessions of the resident alien should be limited in value and area.

Resolved, That we favor educating the boys and girls of American citizens as mechanics and artisans, thus fitting them for the places now filled by foreigners, who supply the greater part of our skilled labor, and thereby almost entirely control the great industries of our country, save, perhaps, that of agriculture alone; and, that our boys and girls may be taught trades, we demand the establishment and maintenance of free technical schools.

Resolved, That universal education is a necessity of our government, and that an American free-school system should be maintained and preserved as the safeguard of American liberty.

Resolved, That no language except the English shall be taught in the common schools supported at the public expense.

Whereas, Unemployed population is the greatest evil that can befall any nation, and in this country it cannot be eliminated by European methods, such as extra police and standing armies; therefore,

Resolved, That the surplus in the treasury should be devoted to the material improvement of our coast and frontier defenses and the construction of an American navy in American workshops by American labor.

Resolved, That we demand the enactment of a law which shall require all persons having charge in any way, in any department, bureau, or division of the government, to forthwith dismiss from the public service all persons employed in or about any such department, bureau, or division, in any way or manner, who are not citizens of the United States by nativity or by having fully completed their naturalization papers by due process of law; that no person shall be appointed to or hold office or place in the service of the United States who is not a citizen of the United States, either by having fully completed his naturalization and taken out his final papers by due form and process of law or who is not a citizen of the United States by nativity.

Resolved, That after the year 1898 it shall be required of every voter, before he exercises the right of suffrage, to be able to read the written or printed constitution of the United States in the English language and to write his own name upon the register, to show that he is fitted to share in the administration of the government of the republic.

Resolved, That we recognize the right of labor to organize for its protection, and by all lawful and peaceful means to secure to itself the greatest reward for its thrift and industry; and we believe in governmental arbitration in the settlement of industrial differences.

Resolved, That we are in favor of such legislation by congress as will re-establish the American marine.

Resolved, That no flag shall float over any public building—municipal, state, or national—in the United States except the stars and stripes.

Resolved, That we reassert the American principles of absolute fredom of religious worship and belief; the permanent separation of church and state; and we oppose the appropriation of public money or property to any church or institution administered by a church. We maintain that all church property should be subject to taxation.

Resolved, That the presidential term shall be extended to six years and the president shall be ineligible for re-election.

Resolved, That the American party declares that it recognizes no north, no south, no east, no west, in these United States; but one people, pledged to our liberty and our independence.

The nominees of the convention were: For president, James L. Curtis of Connecticut, and for vice-president, J. R. Greer of Tennessee. Mr. Greer declined and D. P. Wigginton of California was substituted in his place after the convention adjourned.

Industrial Reform.

Adopted at Washington Feb. 22, 1888.

Whereas, It is possible to secure many needed reforms under a correct financial and industrial system; therefore

Resolved, By the industrial party, in national convention assembled at the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of February, 1888:

1. That the government shall provide full legal-tender money sufficient in volume to meet the requirements of the people.

2. That the secretary of the treasury shall immediately redeem all public interest-bearing bonds.

3. That all banks of issue shall be abolished.

4. That the privilege of voting is inherent in citizenship and the right to vote should be accorded to women.

The nominees of the convention were: For president, Albert E. Redstone of California and for vice-president, John Calvin of Kansas.

STATE ELECTIONS OF 1888.

Illinois Republicans.

Adopted at Springfield May 2, 1888.

The republican party of the state of Illinois deems it unnecessary, on the eve of a national convention, to make an extended declaration of principles, more than to reaffirm those laid down in the national platform of 1884 and to express the conviction that the public interests would be greatly promoted by a change of administration. The democratic party has become merely an organization for official spoils. It has unblushingly violated all its reformatory promises. It is not entitled to the confidence of the people. The president solemnly pledges himself to carry out civil-service reform, but, with the full approval of his partisan supporters, he has converted this reform into a shallow pretense. He committed himself to the one-term principle in his letter of acceptance, but is now actually using the federal patronage to secure a re-election. His partisan confederates proclaim devotion to equal-suffrage rights while they trample those rights under foot in the south.

The democratic party professes attachment to state sovereignty and home rule but ruthlessly denies both to the American citizens of Dakota, fearing that the votes of that people may be cast for the republican candidates at the coming presidential election. It professes love for the union soldiers and sailors, but its continued policy has been to refuse relief to the suffering defenders of the nation and their dependents. It rules the national house of representatives, which alone can originate changes of tax and revenue bills, but it has done nothing in its last six years of control of that body to reduce the surplus accumulation of money in the treasury or to relieve the people of unnecessary taxation

Its proposed tariff legislation is a glaring subterfuge and an attempt to destroy the American policy of protection to American industries and labor in the interest of foreign countries, which, if successful, must necessarily bring disaster upon the business of this country and tend to reduce the American rate of wages to European standards. It has provided no seaboard defense against foreign invasion. Its administration of foreign affairs has been weak to the verge of humiliation. Our nation is now represented abroad by men who either sought its dismemberment or openly sympathized with its foes. The postal service, affecting every interest, has become a disgrace to the country. Partisan spoilsmen, in violation of civil-service reform principles, have displaced trained, competent, and faithful officers, many of them ex-union soldiers. Every function of the government is made subordinate to partisan ends. There is a lamentable want of honesty of purpose and efficiency of administration.

The needed change of administration can be accomplished by the selection of a candidate whose courage, character, and record command universal confidence and will concentrate the united and enthusiastic support of the whole republican party. We must have an aggressive, not a defensive, campaign. For a leader in such a campaign we turn with one accord to Walter Q. Gresham. In the opinion of this convention he is the best and most available candidate to lead the republican party to victory in the coming presidential election. By his brainy and patriotic services in the war for the preservation of the union and the abolition of slavery Walter Q. Gresham has won a warm place in the hearts of the volunteer soldiers and of the emancipated race. By his important labors in two great cabinet positions he has demonstrated high qualities as a statesman. By his unswerving rectitude on the bench in holding the scales of justice on even poise, irrespective of the strength or weakness, the wealth or poverty, of the suitors, he has gained the confidence of the people, who recognize in him a just, a fearless judge, and in his whole life, from its humble beginning to his present high position as circuit judge for the great states of Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri the people have seen in him traits of character resembling those of the immortal Lincoln. We feel confident that his nomination for president by the national convention will restore the administration to the keeping of the republican party and give the nation a president worthy of its origin and history, its traditions and aspirations. We, therefore, request the delegates from this state to the national convention to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

We heartily indorse the nominations made this day and pledge them our hearty support.

We assert that one of the chief purposes of the republican party has always been the furtherance of the true interests of the laboring classes; and, in pursuance of that policy, we favor further legislation to that end; and in view of the industrial prosperity of the state, and in order that that portion of the citizenship of the state which is under employment as miners, mechanics, and employes of all kinds may more fully share in that prosperity we favor legislation looking to the prompt and frequent payment of all wages in lawful money.

Illinois Democrats.

Adopted at Springfield May 23, 1888.

The democracy of the state of Illinois, in convention assembled, earnestly indorse the administration acts of President Cleveland. They deem him to have proved himself, by his wise and conservative course and by his faithful and efficient discharge of his official duties, worthy the confidence of all the people and entitled to the loyal support of that political party whose illustrious leader he is. The public good demands his renomination and re-election to the chief magistracy of the nation. They admire his candor and applaud his courage in voicing, in his recent message to congress upon the reform of the present tariff, the democratic doctrine that the constitutional taxing power of the government is exhausted when the government has by means of it exacted from the people a sufficient amount of revenue to meet the necessary expenses of the government economically administered. In the raising of such revenue they insist that the government levy its taxes in such a manner as to make, as far as practicable, the luxuries rather than the necessaries of life bear the burden of expense, and that they be not levied in such a manner as to create class distinction and promote business favoritism and breed trusts and monopolies.

Not less urgent they believe is the demand for reform in state taxation than in the nation, and they call the serious attention of the voters of Illinois to the enormous increase in the expenditure of the public money by the present republican administration for the support of the state government, in itself a cause of utmost concern to the tax-payers. So alarmingly have these expenditures increased that the people were taxed to raise the sum of $4,228,090 for the year 1887, a sum almost $1,500,000 in excess of the former year; a sum so large that it demonstrates that the longer the republican party remains in power in the state the more corrupt and extravagant it grows, and justifies the demand of the people for a change, not only to the end that such extravagance shall cease, but that proper investigation may be had to ascertain if the money has been honestly expended.

The democratic party favor full governmental inquiry into the causes of the present disturbed condition of the industrial world and demand such legislation, state and national, as will remove an unjust burden from those who labor; and they also favor laws to encourage and provide arbitration in disputes that affect the public welfare.

The people of Illinois call upon congress to make provision for the construction of the great national waterway between the great lakes and the Mississippi river sufficient for the largest inland commerce and for naval defense, as proposed by the waterway convention held in Peoria in October, 1887, and indorsed and approved by the national waterways convention held in Memphis in October, 1887, and by the national farmers' congress held in Chicago in November, 1887; and the democracy of Illinois requests the national convention to make this question a part of its declaration and platform.

They cordially commend the energetic action and liberal course of the administration of Grover Cleveland in administering all pension laws for the benefit of union soldiers and their families, by which their claims have been rapidly adjusted and comfort and happiness brought to the homes of thousands who, by inefficiency and neglect in the former administration of the pension laws, had been wronged and neglected.

Resolved, That the democratic party is opposed to non-resident foreign holders of lands in the United States.

The democratic party favors no legislation restricting immigration and naturalization of honest men who come desiring to assume and to discharge the duties of proper citizenship.

Illinois Prohibitionists.

Adopted at Springfield May 16, 1888.

The prohibitionists of the state of Illinois, reverently recognizing the Almighty as the Supreme Ruler, to whose laws all human statutes should conform, unite in the following declaration of principles:

We demand the entire prohibition of the manufacture, sale, importation, exportation, and interstate traffic in all alcoholic beverages, by both statutory and constitutional enactment.

The maker, seller, and drinker, the men who vote for license, and those who lease their property for the use of the liquor traffic, or support political parties controlled by the traffic, are alike responsible for its continuance and its evils.

Drunkenness has increased with the license system, and its utility is denied. Illiteracy, habitual drunkenness, or conviction for receiving bribes should work disfranchisement.

We favor unqualified right of suffrage, regardless of sex.

We favor a tariff for revenue to run the government.

We denounce the extravagance in the administration of state affairs, and declare that the increase in our rate of taxation for state purposes from 33 cents on the $100 in 1878 to 53 cents on the $100 in 1887 is largely due to the licensed liquor traffic.

The wanton desecration of the sabbath permitted by the republican and democratic parties is a betrayal of the best interests of society.

We recommend arbitration to settle differences between capital and labor.

We heartily indorse the W. C. T. U. and pledge it our support.

We sympathize with the farmers in the present low prices they obtain for their products on account of excessive taxation.

Illinois Union Labor.

Adopted at Decatur, April 26, 1888.

Whereas, We represent the union labor party of Illinois, composed of delegates from granges, farmers' and labor organizations, trade unions, and labor clubs, in convention assembled, and promulgate the following statement:

1. We mean by the union labor party the co-operation of all who desire such legislation as will secure to all persons equal and exact justice.

2. The strict enforcement of the law is absolutely necessary to the stability of industry, commerce, and business, and we believe the proper remedy for all general evils and inadequations of government lies in appeal to the intelligence of the people and the ballot.

3. We view with alarm the inexcusable increase of state taxes for 1888 to 53 cents on the $100 valuation of property, and call for a remedy at the hands of the people.

4. Holders of mortgages should be assessed a tax in proportionate amount represented by the mortgages in land or property.

5. The election of railroad and warehouse commissioners by the people.

6. The means of transportation and communication to be controlled by the people, as is the postal system.

7. The establishment of a monetary system in the interest of the producer instead of the speculator and user, by which a circulating medium in full legal tender shall be issued directly to the people without the intervention of banks, or loaned to citizens upon ample security at a low rate of interest. Postal savings banks should be established. Where we have free coinage of gold we should have free coinage of silver. We demand the prompt payment of the national debt and no further issuance of bonds by the national government, states, territories, counties, or municipalities.

8. Arbitration should settle all labor disputes; the hours of labor in all industrial institutions be reduced commensurate with the increase of labor-saving machinery; employes protected from bodily injury, and equal pay for equal work; driving children into manufactories should be prohibited by legislation.

9. A graduated income-tax is the most equitable system of taxation, placing the burden on those who can best afford to bear it, instead of laying it on the farmer and producer and exempting millionaires and bondholders.

10. The demand of a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by the people.

11. The employment of armed men by private corporations should be prohibited.

12. The right to vote is inherent in citizenship, irrespective of sex.

13. We are a temperance party and believe the liquor traffic to be a crime against society and good government and a hindrance to civilization.

Illinois United Labor.

Adopted at Chicago Oct. 10, 1888.

The united labor party of the state of Illinois, in its state convention assembled, dclares its object to be the enforcement of the principles laid down in the declaration of independence, that all men have equal, inalienable rights to the common bounties of nature, out of which alone labor can produce wealth.

We declare that the land belongs to the people, and that those who occupy the choicer portions of the common estate should pay to the community a perfect equivalent for the exclusive possession thereof; that these payments should be by a tax that shall take the values created by the community and use them for the benefit of the community.

Believing that such a tax would destroy the artificial scarcity that results from speculation in land, and thus a constant demand would be created for labor, we declare that it must result in giving the industrious the opportunity to enjoy the right of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness which is guaranteed to them by the constitution of these United States. We therefere demand of our state legislature that all taxes be placed on the land in proportion to its value, and that all improvements, personal property, and other products of industry be freed from taxation.

We demand that the railroads, telegraphs, and all monopolies created by the state shall be restored to the state, and by placing them under the control of the government make them the servants and not the masters of the people.

Conscious as we are that we can only hope to bring about these reforms by purifying the ballot and freeing it from the corrupting influence of money in politics, preventing bribery and intimidation, and securing that secrecy in the exercise of the suffrage that alone can guarantee the liberties of the people, we demand of the law-making body of our state the enactment of a law similar to that adopted by our sister state of Massachusetts and known as the Australian system of voting.

Believing as we do that these demands are directly in accord with good citizenship and for the interest of all the people who are not dependent on special legislation, we solicit in support of these principles the aid and co-operation of all classes of citizens who desire by constitutional methods to again establish equal justice, and by destroying class legislation restore to men their natural opportunities to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Indiana Republicans.

Adopted at Indianapolis Aug. 8, 1888.

With grateful pride the republicans of Indiana indorse and ratify the action of the national convention held at Chicago in June last. Affirming allegiance to the principles and policy of the republican party, we pledge the nominees for president and vice-president a united and successful support. The electoral votes of Indiana will be given for Harrison and Morton. In commending Benjamin Harrison to the people of the United States we repeat the words in which the state presented him as a candidate for nomination: "A republican without equivocation, always in the forefront of every contest, devoted to the principles of the party with which he has been identified since its organization, prominent and zealous in all its campaigns, wise and trusted in its councils, serving with honorable distinction in the military and civil service of the government, of great abilities, long and distinguished public life, of high character and unblemished reputation."

The national platform expresses the faith of the party upon national questions. For the republicans of Indiana we declare:

Crimes against an equal ballot and equal representation are destructive of free government. The iniquitous and unfair apportionment for congressional and legislative purposes, made at the behest of the Liquor league of Indiana, followed by conspiracy and forgery upon the election returns of 1886 in Marion county, for which a number of prominent democratic party leaders were indicted and tried, two of whom are now suffering the deserved penalty of their acts, demand the rebuke of every patriotic citizen. The gerrymander by which more than half of the people of the state are shorn of their just rights must be repealed and constitutional apportionments made, whereby the votes of members of all political parties shall be given equal force and effect. We believe equal political rights to be the only basis of a truly democratic and republican form of government. The action of the democrats in the last general assembly was revolutionary and criminal. The will of the people, expressed in a peaceable and lawful election, advised and participated in by the democratic party, was set at defiance and the constitution and laws, as expounded by the Supreme court of the state, disregarded and nullified. Public and private rights were subverted and destroyed, and the capitol of the state disgraced by violence and brutality. The alleged election of a United States senator was accomplished by fraud and force, by high-handed usurpation of power, the overthrow of constitutional and legal forms, the setting aside of the results of a popular election, and the theft of the prerogatives of duly elected and qualified members of the legislature. That stolen senatorship is part of the democratic administration at Washington, now in power by virtue of public crimes and the nullification of constitution and laws.

The sworn revelations of corruption, scoundrelism, and outrage in the conduct of the penal and benevolent institutions of the state, made before investigating committees of the last legislature, and confessed by the action of a democratic governor and democratic legislators, enforce the demand of an enlightened public sentiment that these great and sacred trusts be forever removed from partisan control. We favor placing all public institutions under a wisely conceived and honestly administered civil-service law.

Labor is the foundation of the state. It must be free, well paid, and intelligent to remain honorable, prosperous, and dignified. In the interests of labor we favor the establishment and permanent maintenance of a bureau of labor statistics. We favor the passage and strict enforcement of laws which will absolutely prevent the competition of imported servile, convict, or contract labor of all kinds with free labor; prohibit the employment of young children in factories and mines; guarantee to workingmen the most favorable conditions for their service, especially proper safeguards for life and comfort in mines and factories, on railways, and in all hazardous occupations; to secure which the duties and powers of the state mine-inspector should be enlarged and provision made whereby only skilled and competent men can be placed in positions where they may be in control of the lives and safety of others; enforce the certain and frequent payment of wages; abridge the hours of labor wherever practicable, and provide for the submission to just and impartial arbitration, under regulations that will make the arbitration effective, all controversies between workingmen and their employers. The right of wage-workers to organize for the legitimate promotion of their mutual good cannot be questioned.

A just and equal enforcement of the law is the only sure defense for the rights of the people. It is the highest duty of the state and local governments to administer all laws for the protection of life and property, and the abdication of this function to private and personal agencies is dangerous to the public peace and subversive of proper respect for legal authority.

We favor such legislation as will secure to every head of a family in Indiana a comfortable homestead, in addition to the personal property now exempted from execution by the law.

Fees and salaries should be equalized under the constitutional amendment adopted by so large a majority for that purpose, and a law for the equitable compensation of public officials should be promptly enacted. The methods of county and township business should be economized and simplified.

The amendments to the state constitution making the term of county officers four years and striking out the word "white" from section 1, article 12, so that colored men may become a part of the regular militia force for the defense of the state, should be renewed.

Railway and other public corporations should be subjected to control through the legislative power that created them; their undue influence in legislation and courts and the imposition of unnecessary burdens upon the people through illegitimate increase of stock or capital should be summarily prevented.

The free, unsectarian public-school system must be protected against impairment or abridgement from any cause. The constitutional provision for a common-school education of the children of all the people should be given the widest possible scope. The state Normal school for the training of teachers for the common schools should be rebuilt and the school fund of the state released from restrictions that keep it out of the hands of the people.

Politics and legislation must be kept free from the influence of the saloon. The liquor traffic must obey the law. We favor legislation upon the principle of local option, whereby the various communities throughout the state may, as they shall deem best, either control or suppress the traffic in intoxicating liquors.

The gratitude of a patriotic people to the defenders of the union cannot be measured by money. We will not consent that any union soldier or sailor or his widow or orphans shall be impoverished or embarrassed because of the refusal of liberal provisions by the government or technical requirements of law or administration in securing recognition of their just claims. Proof of an honorable discharge and of existing disability ought and must be deemed sufficient showing to warrant the award of a pension.

We congratulate the people of the state upon the indications of a prosperity that is being maintained despite all adverse influences. The rapid utilization of natural gas has greatly stimulated the industrial interests of the commonwealth and rendered more essential the continuance of that economic system under which our marvelous advancement has been made. State legislation should be directed toward the reclamation of untillable lands and the development of our resources of every kind.

Democratic filibustering in the national house of representatives prevented the return to the treasury of the state of Indiana of the sum of $904,875.33, the justice of which claim against the general government has been officially acknowledged and its repayment provided for. Like hostile democratic action has also prevented the return to our state treasury of $606,979.41 discount and interest on war-loan bonds rendered necessary to equip and maintain the volunteer soldiers who went out under the first call for troops in 1861. More than $1,500,000 justly due the state are thus withheld in the presence of an increasing federal surplus and of a practically bankrupt state treasury caused by the incompetence of the democratic state administration.

The services of our republican members of the national house of representatives meet our unqualified approval. They have been alert to protect the interests of the state and of their respective constituents. The location of a branch of the National Soldiers' home and the prospective establishment of a naval hospital within the borders of the state are sources for special congratulation.

Under this declaration of facts and principles the republicans of Indiana invite the co-operation of all citizens, irrespective of past political faith or action.

Indiana Democrats.

Adopted at Indianapolis April 26, 1888.

1. The democratic party of Indiana, in convention assembled, renews its pledges of fidelity to the constitution and doctrines taught by the illustrious men who were its founders, and illustrated in their administrations of the government, and insists upon an honest and economical administration of public affairs, federal, state, and municipal. It will resist all effort to deprive the federal government of any of its powers as delegated in the constitution, and will maintain for the states and the people respectively the rights and powers reserved to them in the constitution.

2. We congratulate the people of the whole country upon the eminently successful administration of President Cleveland. Coming into power under circumstances peculiarly difficult and embarrassing, after a long period of republican rule, he has conducted the affairs of the executive department with such prudence and ability as to challenge the approval of all unprejudiced people.

That he has earnestly labored to discharge the duties of his great office in the interest of all the people there can be no question. That he has succeeded so well is a source of pride and gratification to those who elected him, as it should be to all his countrymen. Not even party malice dares to assail his honesty or integrity, and all his acts have not only been clean but above suspicion. The country is at peace with all the world, the laws are faithfully administered, good order and economy prevail wherever the executive has control, and the whole country is enjoying remarkable prosperity under his wise and beneficent administration; therefore, the democracy of Indiana feel that it would be unwise to risk the hazard of a change, and declare themselves emphatically in favor of his re-election.

3. We are opposed to taking money from the pockets of the people and hoarding it in the treasury of the United States beyond the needs of a proper administration of the government, thus converting it into dead capital at the expense of the business of the country and encouraging extravagant and corrupt expenditures. To the end that these cruel burdens be removed from the tax-payers, and that such expenditures shall cease, we insist that the taxes on imports be reduced to the lowest point consistent with efficiency in the public service, and we demand a revision and reform of the present unjust tariff as recommended in the late message of the president.

4. The democratic party of Indiana favors such rules and regulations for the civil service, both national and state, as will secure honest, capable, and deserving public officers, but where honesty, ability, and merit are equal, we believe there would be both justice and wisdom in giving preference to those who would harmonize in principle and policy with the party having the responsibility of administration.

5. The democratic party, being of the people and for the people, favors such legislation as will guarantee the broadest protection to the interests and welfare of the industrial masses; it recognizes the fact that labor is the producer of the wealth of a nation and that laws should be so framed as to encourage and promote the interest, progress, and prosperity of all classes, and especially of all laboring people.

6. That we recognize the right of all men to organize for social or material advancement; the right of wage-workers to use all lawful means to protect themselves against the encroachments of moneyed monopolists, and the right to fix a price for their labor commensurate with the work required of them, and we hold that every man has the right to dispose of his own labor upon such terms as he may think will best promote his interests. In relations between capital and labor the democratic party favors such measures and policies as will promote harmony between them and will adequately protect the rights and interests of both. We freely indorse and approve the laws passed pursuant to the demands of former democratic conventions, making provision for the safety and protection of laborers and miners and providing for the collection of their wages, and are in favor of all other enactments to that end which may be necessary and proper.

7. It is the duty of the government to repossess itself of all public lands heretofore granted for the benefit of corporations which have been forfeited by non-compliance with the conditions of the grant, and should hold the same for the use and benefit of the people. Laws should be passed to prevent the ownership of large tracts of land by corporations or by persons not citizens of the United States, or who have not declared their intention to become such as provided by law. Congress should discourage the purchase of public land in large bodies by any parties for speculative purposes, but should preserve the same, as far as practicable, for actual settlers, and to that end all subsidies of land as well as money to corporations and speculators should cease forever.

8. It is provided by the constitution of this state that the liberty of the people should be protected and that their private property should not be taken without just compensation, and we are opposed to any change in the constitution tending to weaken these safeguards, or to any legislation which asserts the power to take or destroy the private property of any portion of the people of this state without compensation, or which unjustly interferes with their personal liberty as to what they shall eat or drink or as to the kind of clothing they shall wear, believing that the government should be administered in that way best calculated to confer the greatest good upon the greatest number, without sacrificing the rights of person or of property, and leaving the innocent creeds, habits, customs, and business of the people unfettered by sumptuary laws, class legislation, or extortionate monopolies. While standing faithfully by the rights of property and personal liberty guaranteed to the people by the constitution, we distinctly declare that we are in favor of sobriety and temperance, and all proper means for the promotion of these virtues, but we believe that a well-regulated license system and reasonable and just laws upon the subject, faithfully enforced, would be better than extreme measures, which, being subversive of personal liberty and in conflict with public sentiment, would never be effectively executed, thus bringing law into disrepute and tending to make sneaks and hypocrites of our people.

9. We unqualifiedly condemn the action of the republican party in the last general assembly of the state of Indiana in their revolutionary scheme to unseat democratic members and thus obstruct needful legislation and subvert the will of the people as expressed at the ballot-box, and we heartily commend and indorse the action of the democratic members thereof in their successful efforts to preserve that majority.

10. The democratic party of Indiana believes in fair elections and an honest count, and deplores and holds up for the detestation of the people the supreme fraud of 1876-7, by which the will of the people was set aside and men not elected were placed in two of the most important offices of the country. Also for the use of vast sums of money in controlling and corrupting the elections in 1880, which leading men of that party have admitted reached the enormous sum of $400,000 in this state alone. Also for setting the bad example, in various other ways, of carrying elections by unfair and unlawful methods, both in this state and elsewhere.

11. The democratic party is the faithful friend of the soldiers, their widows and orphans, and, in appreciation of the heroic and unselfish services of the union soldiers and sailors, we declare in favor of liberal legislation in their behalf including an enactment by congress of a just and equitable service pension law as a recognition of patriotism and a reward for honorable services rendered the government.

Resolved, That our confidence in and esteem for the Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees and the Hon. David Turpie, our great representatives in the United States senate, continues unabated, and we cheerfully greet them and their democratic associates from Indiana in the house of representatives with the plaudit: "Well done, good and faithful public servants."

We heartily indorse the pure and able administration of Gov. Isaac P. Gray and commend him to the democratic national convention as the choice of the democracy of Indiana for vice-president, and hereby instruct our delegates to present his name to the convention for that high office and to cast their votes for him as a unit while his name is before the national convention as a candidate.

Indiana Prohibitionists.

Adopted at Indianapolis March 15, 1888.

We owe our allegiance, first, to God, the author of all law, and next, to our country.

We present to our fellow-citizens the one overshadowing crime—the liquor traffic. We are unalterably opposed to the enactment of laws that propose to license, tax, or otherwise to regulate the drink traffic, because they provide for its continuance. As a temperance measure high license is a delusion and a fraud, and, as now advocated by the liquor dealers and the two old parties, calculated to perpetuate the liquor crime by offering a bribe to the tax-payer and debauching public conscience.

That we recognize the Women's Christian Temperance union as a faithful, influential auxiliary of the prohibition party in the work of moral reform, the purification of politics, and the perpetuation of our civil and religious liberty.

We believe in a free and carefully protected ballot, unrestricted by sex.

We favor applying the golden rule to the relations of capital and labor, and arbitration in cases of conflict, but the best interests of both capital and labor demand the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

We view with alarm the growing desecration of the Lord's day and the efforts making by the liquor power to repeal the laws protecting it, and we call upon all good citizens to join us in maintaining these laws.

We hail with delight the organization of the blue and the gray under the white banner of prohibition as the harbinger of permanent peace between the north and the south.

We owe a debt of lasting gratitude to the defenders of our country and we favor a more equable system of pensions, and regard it as a burning shame that any of these veterans should languish in almshouses.

We believe that in the readjustment of the tariff which the people are demanding the right of the manufacturer and laborer should both be considered, but insist that, as this is not a partisan question, those who are right on prohibition can be safely trusted to deal wisely with it.

That we are utterly opposed to levying a greater amount of taxes, directly or indirectly, than is sufficient for an honest and economical administration of government, local and general, and that when the remuneration of public officers is so large that it serves as an incentive to corruption in politics and proves an unceasing burden to the people such reduction should be made as is consistent with the public welfare.

That public printing and advertising should be given to the lowest responsible bidder.

Prohibition by political action is our only test of party fealty.

Indiana Union Labor.

Adopted at Indianapolis March 7, 1888.

Whereas, Under the present industrial and financial system wealth accumulates with a frightful rapidity in the hands of a few, while the mass of the people are becoming poorer all the time, and

Whereas, The land is getting more and more in the possession of wealthy individuals, corporations, and syndicates, and the small farmers hardly are able any longer to make a living upon their farms in consequence of the influence of the money power and the power of corporations, and

Whereas, The products of labor are so unequally distributed that the laborer, the producer of all wealth, hardly gets enough of the products of his toil to keep body and soul together, and

Whereas, In this unequal distribution of the products of labor, in the growing poverty on one side and the amassing of immense fortunes upon the other, and in the tendency of the political power always falling into the hands of the few who control the wealth of the nation, there is a great danger, inasmuch as such a condition creates classes and may ultimately become the destroyer of our free republican institutions; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we do hereby reaffirm the platform of principles adopted at Cincinnati Feb. 22, 1887.

Resolved, That we favor the repeal of the law now in force in this state allowing counties, townships, and cities to vote taxes on the people for building railroads for corporations.

Resolved, That we are opposed to the competition of the present prison contract labor as now practiced against free labor.

Resolved, That we are in favor of abolishing the fee system in the payment of officials, but that they be paid fixed salaries, and all fees be paid into the county treasury.

We favor a law requiring public officials to let by contract to the lowest responsible bidder the furnishing of all legal printing and legal newspaper notices.

Resolved, That we favor a change in our election laws so that the voter will be secured from public observation during the act of voting.

Resolved, That we are in favor of placing the charitable and penal institutions of the state in the hands of men competent to manage them, and not in the hands of mere partisans, and that the management should not be changed when a change of party occurs.

Resolved, That we believe some check should be placed upon the power of county commissioners and township trustees to heap debt upon the corporation under their control.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the state furnishing school-books at cost to the townships, to be given free to all pupils.

Resolved, We are opposed to child labor, first, last, and all the time.

In appreciation of the services of the union soldier, we demand the enactment by congress of a service pension law and the equalization of their pay in gold with the bondholder. Pensions should be granted as diplomas of honorable service and not as badges of dependence and poverty.

We are in favor of changing the law exempting property from levy and sale upon execution. Where the judgment is for unpaid wages no property shall be exempt.

We are in favor of laws compelling manufacturers to use all appliances which science affords for the protection of laborers against accidents, and we favor laws which compel manufacturers to maintain their factories in a sanitary condition. Neglect in this respect should be made a criminal offense, and for the purpose of enforcing this law we favor the appointment of factory inspectors.

Iowa Republicans.

Adopted at Des Moines March 21, 1888.

Realizing at this time, on the eve of the meeting of the national convention, that a platform of principles by the republicans of this state is not required further than a declaration of reaffirmation of the past announced position of the party, yet the republicans of Iowa improve this opportunity to declare that with unanimity and enthusiasm we present the name of William B. Allison to the republican convention for nomination for the office of president of the United States, and we do this, not from a feeling of state pride, but from a profound conviction that we are acting in obedience to an obligation now resting upon republicans everywhere to urge the selection only of the strongest and best candidate. His quarter of a century of service in both branches of congress has been conspicuous for loyalty to the republicans; for fidelity to principles that underlie the government; for profound knowledge of the material resources and needs of the nation; for great wisdom and skill in finance; for broad and prudent statesmanship. In party councils he has been the foe of faction; a fearless but ever-courteous foe. He is in the full vigor of his mental and physical powers, genial, affable, and approachable. Never acting from passion, rarely from impulse, but uniformly from calm consideration and judgment; kind in thought and speech and purpose, the embodiment of personal and official integrity, he presents a rare combination of all the elements for a strong party candidate and a wise, popular, and honored executive, and we commend his name to the judgment of the republicans of the nation.

Iowa Democrats.

Adopted at Dubuque May 1, 1888.

1. The democrats of Iowa indorse the administration of President Cleveland and commend his enforcement of all laws, and his manly and courageous declaration for a reduction of useless war taxes, and his clean, honest, and economical administration of public affairs and the liberal, prompt, and generous payment of all pensions in meritorious claims.

2. We are opposed to the exercise of the taxing power for any but public purposes, and fully and unqualifiedly declare President Cleveland's message as the views of the Iowa democracy on the tariff question. In the interest of American homes we demand free coats and blankets; in the interests of temperance and morality we oppose free whisky and tobacco.

3. In appointments to all offices, the duties of which may reflect the policies of the administration persons should be selected whose principles harmonize with the party having the responsibilities of such administration. But subordinates should be selected and retained for their efficiency. Levying assessments on officeholders for partisan purposes cannot be too strongly condemned, and we recommend to the fullest extent every effort which President Cleveland has made in the direction of the reform and elevation of the civil service.

4. We again declare our opposition to all prohibitory liquor laws in state or nation.

Iowa Prohibitionists.

Adopted at Des Moines April 26, 1888.

1. We acknowledge Almighty God as the rightful sovereign of all men, from whom the just powers of government are derived, and to whose laws human enactments should conform as an absolute condition of peace, prosperity, and happiness.

2. We demand the earliest possible prohibition of the liquor traffic by both state and national constitutions and the repeal of all crime-fostering license and tax systems.

3. The rum power must be vanquished by a political organization. Those intrusted with the enforcement of the prohibitory laws must not only be in sympathy with the principles but sustained by a party unconditionally committed to the doctrine of prohibition. Prohibitory enactments forced upon an unwilling party is prohibition in the hands of its enemies.

4. We protest, in the name of sober manhood, pleading womanhood, and neglected and starving children, against the cold-blooded attempt of unscrupulous political demagogues to shield the liquor traffic by a disgusting effort to fight another presidential campaign on the tariff issue, while this liquor problem, a thousand times more vast in importance, is sought to be ignored.

5. We demand for the voters of Iowa a fair count of the ballots cast by the prohibitionists as well as other voters, for upon this rests our liberties as a people and a nation.

6. We favor a reduction of both the passenger and freight tariff on all the trunk lines of railroads in our state and all progressive railroad legislation.

7. We extend cordial sympathy to the wage-workers of our country in all lawful efforts to better their condition. We favor reservation of public lands for actual settlers and the prohibition of the importation of paupers and the employment of child labor.

8. Believing in civil and political equality of the sexes; that they should not be taxed without representation, and that the ballot in the hands of woman is her right for protection and would prove a powerful ally for the abolition of the liquor traffic, we favor and demand the submission of the question of equal suffrage to a popular vote.

9. The welfare of the community and the laws of God require further safeguards for the civil and the Christian sabbath.

10. We denounce the officers of the law that shield violation of the prohibitory liquor laws of Iowa and aid such criminals in escaping punishment.

Iowa Union Labor.

Adopted at Marshalltown June 28, 1888.

Resolved, That the persistent policy of the government since 1865 has been to reduce the money circulation of the country, first by funding hundreds of millions of legal tenders into interest-bearing bonds; again, by stopping the free coinage of silver; again, by allowing the national banks to withdraw their circulation whenever avarice dictated, and lastly by locking up over $600,000,000 under various pretexts in the United States treasury. Thus a money fund has been created, debts doubled, fabulous rates of interest extorted, prices of labor, produce, and land reduced to zero, and farmers, business men, and manufacturers forced to discharge employes, crowd down the wages of those retained, and finally to combine into countless trusts and pools to push up prices to the living point. Thus business has been driven from a cash basis into an interest-bearing note basis. The whole country has been blanketed with bonds and mortgages until European and American usurers extort annually $1,400,000,000 upon over $20,000,000,000 of debts. The most vital question now is, Who shall own the soil, the mortgagor or the mortgagee? The present owners must lose it unless the money-contraction-debt-expansion policy is reversed. This policy was inaugurated by the republicans and adopted and aggravated by the democrats. The present administration has added to the mountains of idle money locked in the treasury, and rather than pay the public debt under plain provision of law has loaned $60,000,000 of public funds free to pet banks. Not an additional dollar of greenbacks has been issued, though the Supreme court has decided such constitutional. Even free coinage of silver is denied. By a recent vote the democratic house declined to deprive the banks of the power to still further contract the currency after the senate had voted to do so.

The platforms recently adopted at St. Louis and Chicago differ only upon the question where taxes shall be reduced, while over $1,000,000,000 of war bonds still draw interest from the many for the benefit of the few, and they propose no measure for relief. So long as it was a question as to what class should be relieved from war taxes, the rich or poor, both parties agreed perfectly and repealed income and bank taxes, thus relieving the rich and showing where their sympathies lie.

In short, Wall street dictates the policy of the two old parties. The exchange of one for the other gives no relief, and to hide these monstrous crimes, to confuse and distract the people, they are engaged in a fruitless, perennial, and perpetual quarrel over tariff taxes and war issues.

Resolved, That we appeal to all citizens of Iowa to no longer trust their treacherous promises; to no longer eat husks at their dictation, but to come out from them forever and vote with us for the following great principles which will give immediate relief:

We demand that all loans of money and credit by the general government to the banks be recalled at once; that the idle money in the United States treasury be applied to pay the war debt; that legal-tender money be issued in volume sufficient to pay off the balance of the bonds and place the business of the country upon a cash basis; that popular loans upon real-estate security shall be made for a time at a rate of interest not exceeding 3 per cent per annum, as the school fund of Iowa is now loaned. By thus supplying the country with an abundant circulating medium our mortgages will be paid, serfdom to capital abolished, and our children saved from becoming tenants to an eastern aristocracy upon the European plan, our manufacturers will be able to compete with foreign manufacturers who get money for half what bankers here demand, and thus our great industrial questions will be settled.

Whereas, The union labor party of Iowa recognizes with pleasure the stand taken by Gov Larrabee, in defiance to party leaders and railroad attorneys, in favor of legislation to compel just and reasonable charges on the part of the railroads of this state; and,

Whereas, The governor has appointed for the first time as railroad commissioners men who sympathize with the people and have shown their sympathy by ordering a reduction in freight rates of 25 per cent upon former charges, and by so arranging the schedule as to protect Iowa manufacturing and business from outside competition; therefore,

Resolved, That this convention hereby indorses the present railway commissioners for the good service they have rendered the state.

We indorse the Cincinnati platform adopted May 16, 1888, and commend to the suffrage of the people of Iowa our noble candidates for president and vice-president of the United States, the Hon. A. J. Streeter and the Hon. C. E. Cunningham.

Resolved by the union labor party of Iowa, in state convention assembled, That we heartily indorse and warmly approve of the course in congress of J. B. Weaver of the 6th district and the Hon. A. R. Anderson of the 8th district; and we further commend the course of other members of congress who have espoused the cause of the people and taken their stand for the payment of the national debt, abolition of banks of issue, and government control of the railway and telegraph service of the country.

Michigan Republicans.

Adopted at Grand Rapids May 8, 1888.

The republicans of Michigan, in state convention assembled, to elect delegates to the national convention, hereby reaffirm the principles of the party as heretofore enunciated by our conventions since the organization of the party. We reaffirm our faith in the wisdom and benefits of the protective policy, under which the country has fully recovered from the financial depressions resulting from the great rebellion, a policy that has quadrupled the wealth of the nation, rendered the country absolutely independent, and elevated and dignified labor in every condition and occupation. We reaffirm our faith in the ability of our party to, in the future as in the past, correct all national evils and foster the growth and prosperity of the whole people.

We hereby arraign the present administration and the democratic majority of the house of representatives for their sectional and selfish attitude upon the tariff, and we especially protest against the open and disgraceful singling out of the great industries of Michigan for destruction.

Resolved, That the republicans of Michigan, desiring only the success of the principles and candidates of the great party that saved the union, and renewing their pledge of loyal fealty to both, but recognizing the great worth and strong availability of their generous and noble-hearted fellow-citizen, that gallant soldier-statesman and successful man of business, Gen. Russell A. Alger, do hereby unanimously and most earnestly recommend him as the man who should be chosen as the standard-bearer of the party in the great contest about to ensue, and who, if so selected, will harmonize and unite the party everywhere and lead the republican hosts to certain and triumphant victory.

Resolved, That all the delegates from Michigan are hereby requested to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

Michigan Democrats.

Adopted at Grand Rapids May 10, 1888.

The democratic citizens of Michigan, by their delegates in state convention at Grand Rapids assembled, acting with all voters in accord with the national administration in its efforts to reduce taxation to the legitimate wants of the government economically administered, do declare:

1. We believe, now as always, in that bedrock principle of all democratic government that all national and state legislation should secure the greatest good to the greatest number of the people.

2. We believe that the habitual disregard of this principle in the legislation of the republican party for the quarter of a century during which an inscrutable Providence suffered that party to interrupt the continuity of democratic administrations is the prolific mother of business demoralization and of the burdens laid on labor, discontented because buried beneath unjust class legislation.

3. We believe that this system of class legislation cannot be long continued; that the living question of the hour is whether it shall be gradually and wisely changed, or wh ther it shall be continued until it becomes a burden too grievous to be borne.

4. We believe in that principle of civil service which requires the citizen filling any post of public duty to give his time and ability to the honest and conscientious discharge of that duty. We also believe that he can best do this when in sympathy with the principles held and the ends sought to be attained by the administration intrusted with the executive duties of government.

5. We believe in a strict construction of the constitution without the assumption of implied powers not delegated to the United States but reserved to the states respectively, or to the people.

6 We seek by national legislation, among other. these ends:

(A). Gradual but certain reduction of the tax upon imports in the direction of a revenue basis; to the end that grievous burdens shall be removed from the laboring masses and an accumulating and corrupting surplus in the treasury be diminished to the lowest point consistent with the maintenance of the national faith and credit.

We declare ourselves in fullest sympathy with the letter and spirit of the president's message on this subject.

It is a manly state paper, altogether in the interest of the laboring tax-payer, instinct with the wise rigidity of will of "Old Hickory," and "by the eternal" it has pure justice and holy truth for its inspiration.

(B). Such legislation as shall further save for the citizen and the settler the public domain, and wrest from corporate and alien claim every acre not now legally theirs. That all unearned land grants to corporations be restored to the government as speedily as possible, for the use and benefit of actual settlers.

(C). Just and liberal pension laws, carefully guarded from the inroads of those not entitled to the bounty of the government; and the democratic party renews its pledge of gratitude and indebtedness to those who so nobly risked their lives for the preservation of the union. We proudly approve of the conduct of the pension department by the present administration under the gallant soldier, John C. Black, as the best and purest since the war, and we condemn in the strongest terms the recent slanders of the memories of the dead patriots who gave their lives and best services to their country.

That the pernicious system of imported contract labor, inaugurated by the republican party, is detrimental to the interests of the working classes of this country, and has been productive of discord and confusion in the past and is derogatory to the genius of American liberty; and while extending a hearty democratic welcome to honest labor seeking a home among us, we deprecate the policy which has inaugurated such a system and demand its entire suppression.

No radical reduction of the internal revenue from whisky and tobacco until the burdens upon the necessaries of life shall have been largely removed from the tax-payer and his family.

A distinct and manly recognition of the efforts of all nations for freer government and home rule.

That we appreciate the honor conferred upon Michigan by the wise appointment to the national cabinet of our able and distinguished fellow-citizen, the Hon. Don M. Dickinson.

That in Grover Cleveland we have found a fearless, honest, and able leader; a man with ability to form convictions and moral courage to assert and enforce them; a true exponent of democratic principles and a safe man to execute the laws governing a free and independent people. We, therefore, join in the spontaneous and universal demand for his renomination and re-election.

The laboring man, bearing in his hand an indispensable contribution to our growth and progress, may well insist, with manly courage, as a right, upon the same recognition from those who make our laws as is accorded to any other citizen having a valuable interest in charge; and his reasonable demands should be met in such a spirit of appreciation and fairness as to induce a contented and patriotic co-operation in the achievement of a grand national destiny.

Michigan Prohibitionists.

Adopted at Grand Rapids May 16, 1888.

Your committee on resolutions would respectfully report that in view of the near approach of the regular biennial convention for the nomination of the state ticket, upon which body such duty will more properly devolve, it is not deemed advisable for the convention to lay down any platform of any general political principles; nevertheless, inasmuch as a paramount issue, presented everywhere by a prohibition party, is the complete extirpation of the legalized liquor trade, and in view of some recent happenings in Michigan touching the question, it seems pertinent that we should here and now declare.

1. Our unabating loyalty and devotion to the sound and sacred principle of prohibition, both constitutional and statutory, in state and nation, against every form of merely regulative or permissive legislation on the subject.

2. We condemn as derogatory to the honor of the state the temporizing, incongruous, and partly unconstitutional legislation on the liquor question enacted by the legislature of Michigan at its recent session. Nothing but the fact that the rum-power has its hands on each of the two great parties can account for the abject political truckling, the stupidity, and moral blindness which marked and marred their work, causing them to fritter away a splendid opportunity for thoroughly outlawing the abominable dram-shop system in this noble commonwealth.

The constitutional amendment was manifestly lost chiefly through the perfidy of those who, under the guise of friendship for temperance, pursued the measure to its death for fear of disrupting the republican party.

3. We are unalterably opposed to local option as the settled policy of the state, because wrong in principle, illogical in law, ineffective in method, and a failure wherever applied. We find, therefore, in the present situation only an added reason for pressing the supreme issue of American politics on the line of the prohibition party, state and national.

4. We believe in impartial suffrage as the one principle in harmony with our free institutions, subject to such limitations only as shall bar crime and ignorance from the final privilege of citizenship.

5. Preferring to have our delegates to the national convention free to exercise their best judgment at the time when they will be required to act, we nevertheless desire to express our present decided preference for Gen. Clinton B. Fisk of New Jersey as the standard-bearer of our party in the ensuing presidential contest. We are satisfied that his tried patriotism, extensive knowledge of public affairs, his high moral and religious character, and acknowledged devotion to the prohibition party and its principles cannot fail to commend him to the favorable consideration of candid citizens in all parts of the nation.

6. We point with pride to the success of Prof. Samuel Dickie in the high place to which he was called after the death of the lamented Hon. John B. Finch, and we strongly urge that he be continued as chairman of the national committee.

Michigan Union Labor.

Adopted at Detroit Aug. 15, 1888.

General discontent prevails on the part of the wealth-producer. Farmers are suffering from a poverty which has forced most of them to mortgage their estates, and the prices of products are so low as to offer no relief except through bankruptcy. Laborers are sinking into greater dependence. Strikes are resorted to without relief, because of the inability of employers in many cases to pay living wages, while more and more are driven into the street. Business men find collections almost impossible, and meantime hundreds of millions of idle public money, which is needed for relief, is locked up in the United States treasury or placed without interest in favorite banks, in grim mockery of distress. Land monopoly flourishes as never before, and more owners of the soil are daily becoming tenants. Great transportation corporations still succeed in extorting their profits on watered stock through unjust charges. The United States senate has become an open scandal, its membership being purchased by the rich in open defiance of the popular will. Various efforts are made to squander the public money, which are designed to empty the treasury without paying the public debt. Under these and other alarming conditions we appeal to the people of our country to come out of old party organizations, whose indifference to the public welfare is responsible for this distress, and aid the union labor party to repeal existing class legislation and relieve the distress of our industries by demanding of the general government:

1. That all currency shall be issued direct to the people without the intervention of banks and of the same amount per capita as gave us the prosperity of 1866.

2. That the coinage of gold and silver shall be free and unlimited.

3. That all idle money in the United States treasury shall be applied to the immediate payment of the bonded debt at par.

4. That all unearned land grants shall be forfeited and all lands held by aliens, corporations, and speculators shall be seized or taken by the government and paid for at a fair price and then held for actual settlers only.

5. That the government shall loan money to the people direct on land security at as low a rate of interest as it now furnishes it to the banks.

6. That every citizen may have a home of moderate cost exempt from taxation or execution.

7. That the means of transportation, communication, and all mines shall be owned or controlled by the government.

8. The letting of convict labor to contractors should be prohibited, the contract system abolished in public works, the hours of labor in industrial establishments be reduced commensurate with the increased production by labor-saving machinery, employes be protected from bodily injury, equal pay given for equal work for both sexes, and labor, agricultural, and co-operative associations be fostered and encouraged by law. The foundation of a republic is in the intelligence of its citizens, and children who are drawn into workshops, mines, and factories are deprived of the education which should be secured to all by proper legislation.

9. The passage of a service-pension bill to pension every honorably discharged soldier and sailor in the United States, and that the pay of the soldiers of '61 to '65 for services shall be made equal to that of the bondholder.

10. That graduated income tax is the most equitable system of taxation, placing the burden of government upon those who can best afford to pay, instead of laying it on the farmers and producers and exempting millionaires, bondholders, and corporations.

11. That a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people shall be submitted.

12. The strict enforcement of laws prohibiting the importation of subjects of foreign countries under contracts.

13. We demand of the state:

(a) That railroad property shall be taxed the same as that of the individual.

(b) That railroad fare be reduced to 2 cents per mile and freight rates in like proportion.

(c) That the Australian system of voting shall be adopted in Michigan.

(d) That in order to prevent trusts, combinations, and pools, whose sole object is to fleece the people, legislation should be had making such conspiracies felonies, and the promoters thereof punished by imprisonment, as other criminals.

(e) That the bounties given by Michigan during the war of the rebellion to her volunteers be equalized and the soldiers of '61 receive the same as those who enlisted later.

(f) That, to prevent monopoly of land, we propose to place taxes equally on unimproved and improved land in the same localities. We would make it unlawful for any alien to own or acquire lands in the United States.

(g) We denounce the extravagance of the present state government and demand the abolishment of all useless state boards and officials and a rigid economy in the conduct of the state government.

Michigan United Labor.

Adopted at Detroit in January, 1888.

1. We demand a valuation on all unoccupied and speculative lands commensurate with that value which location, settlement, and surrounding improvements give thereto, to the extent that speculation and withholding the same from improvement and settlement shall be rendered impossible and monopoly in land be forever destroyed.

2. The means of communication and transportation should be owned and controlled by the people, as is the United States postal system, and equitable rates everywhere established.

3. The establishment of a national monetary system in the interest of the producer, by which a circulating medium in necessary quantities and full legal tender shall be issued direct to the people without the intervention of banks, or loaned to citizens on ample security.

4. A graduated income tax is the most equitable system of taxation, placing the burden of government on those who can best afford to pay, instead of laying it on the farmers and producers, exempting millionaires, bondholders, and corporations.

5. We demand a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

6. The right to vote is inherent in citizenship, irrespective of sex.

7. Excessive wealth, resulting in luxury and idleness on one hand and excessive toil and poverty on the other, lead to intemperance and vice. The measures of reform here demanded will prove to be the scientific solution of the temperance question.

Minnesota Republicans.

Adopted at St. Paul May 16, 1888.

The republican party in Minnesota deem it unnecessary on the eve of a national convention to make a formal and extended declaration of principles further than to reaffirm those laid down in the national platform of 1884, and to express the conviction that the interests of the people throughout the land would be greatly promoted by a change of administration.

It is the first duty of a good government to protect the rights and promote the interests of its own people. The largest diversity of industry is most productive of general prosperity and of the comfort and independence of the people. But while adhering to the principles of protection to American labor and production, we demand that the duties on imports be so adjusted as not to foster monopolies.

The democratic party has become merely an organization for official spoils. It has unblushingly violated all its reformatory promises. It is not entitled to the confidence of the people. The president solemnly pledged himself to carry out civil-service reform; but, with the full approval of his partisan supporters, he has converted this reform into a shallow pretense. He committed himself to the one-term principle in his letter of acceptance, but is now actually using the federal patronage to secure a re-election. His partisan confederates proclaim devotion to equal-suffrage rights, while they trample those rights under foot in the south.

The democratic party professes attachment to state sovereignty and home rule, but ruthlessly denies both to the American citizens of Dakota, fearing that the votes of that people may be cast for the republican candidates at the coming presidential election. It professes love for the union soldiers and sailors, but its continued policy has been to refuse relief to the suffering defenders of the nation and their dependents. It holds the national house of representatives, which alone can originate changes of tax and revenue bills, and it has done nothing in its past six years' control of that body to reduce the surplus accumulation of money in the treasury, or to relieve the people of unnecessary taxation.

The proposed tariff legislation is a glaring subterfuge and an attempt to destroy the American policy of protection to American industries and labor in the interests of foreign countries, which, if successful, must necessarily bring disaster upon the business of this country and tend to reduce the American rates of wages to European standards. It has provided no seaboard defense against foreign invasion. Its administration of foreign affairs has been weak to the verge of humiliation. Our nation is now represented abroad by men who either sought its dismemberment or openly sympathized with its foes.

The postal service, affecting every interest, has become a disgrace to the country. Partisan spoilsmen, in violation of civil-service reform principles, have displaced trained, competent, and faithful officers, many of them ex-union soldiers. Every function of the government is made subornate to partisan ends.

That the convention denounce the present administration, which has had control of the house of representatives for the past five years, in its efforts to disfranchise the people of Dakota for political reasons only. We believe that it is unjust and criminal to longer deprive Dakota of statehood.

For these and other reasons of public importance we believe and here record our earnest conviction that a change of administration is the pressing need of the country, and that it is so demanded by the people

We desire to especially emphasize the fact that President Cleveland's wholesale removals from office on party grounds and his failure to recommend to congress even the slightest legislation to improve the civil service, show his complete surrender to the spoils policy; that the present civil-service law was enacted and faithfully administered during a republican administration, and we urge the senators and representatives from Minnesota to support measures that will uphold and extend the principles of civil-service reform based on qualifications and merit.

That we recognize the evils of an unrestrained saloon interest, and congratulate our people upon the success of the temperance statutes now in force in Minnesota. We request our delegates to the national republican convention to endeavor to secure a plank in the platform of that convention recommending each state to enact such restrictive laws as will reduce the evils of the liquor traffic to the narrowest practicable limits.

Minnesota Democrats.

Adopted at St. Paul May 17, 1888.

The democrats of Minnesota, in harmony with the democracy of the union, declare that the longer continuance of taxes levied for the conduct of a war which ended nearly a quarter of a century ago is a needless and unjustifiable burden upon the people of this country.

To the already accumulated $150,000,000 surplus lying unused and useless in the treasury there is being added under our existing revenue laws an increasing surplus of $80,000,000 each year. This money is not needed for any legitimate purposes of government; it is withdrawn from circulation; it plays no part in the business transactions of the people; it is a constant temptation, a standing inducement for schemes of plunder and corrupt extravagance. We demand as a right that the people shall be at once and forever relieved from this unnecessary and oppressive burden.

Superfluous taxation is tyranny.

The time has come for a thorough revision and a radical reduction of the existing revenue taxes. We insist that the work be at once begun and speedily consummated without further evasion or delay, and that in the doing of it the following principles shall be adhered to as the true basis of genuine revenue reform, viz.:

1. That taxation is not a blessing nor an element of national prosperity. That while sufficient revenue should at all times be collected for the support of an economical government in the discharge of its legitimate functions, for the payment of the public debt, and liberal pensions to deserving veterans of the union armies, not one dollar of superfluous tax should be imposed for the purpose of enhancing the prices of commodities consumed by the people and as a tribute to the private business of a favored few.

2. That whatever taxation it is necessary to retain for governmental purposes should be imposed as far as practicable upon articles of luxury and indulgence which mainly minister to the enjoyment of the rich or the habits of the dissolute.

3. That the taxes should be greatly reduced, and, when practicable, altogether abolished upon all articles and materials in such general use as to be rightly classed as necessaries for our people, which are essential to their health, comfort, and prosperity; which enter into their domestic life, their industrial pursuits, and their personal happiness.

4. That the purchasing power of the products of our labor shall be no longer diminished by a tax upon the things for which we exchange those products; the value of what we sell no longer curtailed by enhancing the cost of what we buy with the proceeds of our sales; that a tax upon imports is in effect a tax upon exports. The best way to render agricultural and manufacturing industries profitable and prosperous is to increase the purchasing power of their product in the markets of the world by abolishing taxes upon the things purchased.

5. That our foreign and international commerce should be increased and the cost of transportation reduced by repealing taxes upon materials which enter into the construction and equipment of our railways and marine.

6. That our manufacturing industries should have the benefit of untaxed raw materials used by them, thus enabling them to dispose of their surplus products in other markets than our own.

7. That the workingmen in those industries should have that steady employment and fair remuneration which can never exist so long as the sale of the products of their labor is confined to the limited demands of an easily overstocked home market.

8. That the cunningly complicated system of specific and ad valorem duties upon the same article, whereby the heaviest taxation is imposed upon the cheaper grades of materials used mainly by our working people, should be wholly abandoned and the millionaire compelled to pay at least an equal percentage of taxation with the poorest laborer.

9. Finally, that all taxation shall be equal and impartial; that our people shall have free access to the markets of the world to buy as well as to sell to the best advantage and upon equal terms with the people of other lands; that our power to produce and our ability to purchase shall no longer be confined to a monopolized home market, influenced by combinations and at the mercy of pools and trusts.

In conformity with these principles we specify as among the articles which should be placed upon the free list, salt, coal, lumber, wool, sugar, iron and steel, glass, binding-twine material, drugs and medicines, all wearing apparel, carpets, and household goods, tools, implements and machinery used in agricultural and mechanical employments, and all raw materials consumed by ou manufacturers.

This is what we mean by revenue reform. The existing tariff was created and is now maintained by the aggregated selfishness of the particular interests which have so long and bounteously fattened upon its profits. Originally imposed as a necessary war measure, it has since been perpetuated and its enormities concealed by deceiving a credulous people with false issues and keeping alive the sectional hatred engendered by the war. For more that twenty years the bloody shirt has protected "protection" from public scrutiny and popular indignation. A combination of favored monopolists, so powerful and so deeply interested in the maintenance of such a system, is not to be easily broken. Inch by inch the cause of reform must win its way. We, therefore, welcome and indorse the Mills bill now pending in congress as the first aggressive step in advance. which deserves the united support of all men who honestly favor revenue reform. While we recognize the growing sentiment for tariff reform among the republican voters of Minnesota we hereby call their attention to the recent utterance of the platform adopted by the last republican state convention—a platform which makes no demand for a reduction of tariff taxes, but is an outspoken indorsement of a protective tariff; but we respectfully suggest to them that such a reform is not to be expected at the hands of men who are beneficiaries of the abuses to be reformed, but can only come from those who are in hearty sympathy with the reform to be accomplished.

While we are not unmindful of the growing interest of the people of Minnesota in this great question, we declare our firm conviction that tariff reduction is not a local issue merely, but one of transcendent national importance. affecting the prosperity, welfare, and happiness of all the people of the whole country. It was made so by the fearless, unequivocal position assumed by President Cleveland in his last annual message. Tariff reform under his leadership is the vital, single issue of the present campaign. With such a cause and under such a leader we cannot fail.

Minnesota Prohibitionists.

Adopted at St. Paul July 25, 1888.

In all great reforms history is constantly repeating itself. The great conflict for the fall of chattel slavery throughout the world has been fought and won. We have now another, reaching to all lands and demanding our mightiest efforts, being waged for the overthrow of alcoholic despotism. England led in the first, America is leading in this, and the King of kings is at the head of our columns. In this conflict the issue is between the continued supply of intoxicants by manufacture, sale, and importation, and its immediate and unconditional prohibition.

Resolved 1. That in the furtherance of this warfare we fully indorse the national platform adopted at Indianapolis by the prohibition party and commend to the suffrages of all citizens Gen. Clinton B. Fisk and Dr. John A. Brooks, its nominees for president and vice-president of these United States.

2. That we regard the saloon traffic as the greatest curse of the human race and the most dangerous element in our government, and we demand its total suppression by constitutional and statutory enactments.

3. That as the license law of Minnesota allows the villages and cities which grant licenses to appropriate to their own use the revenue derived from the saloons so licensed, while the taxation resulting therefrom is borne very largely by the farming community without power to prevent the granting of such license, we declare such law unjust and appeal to the farmers to assist us in crushing the saloon and preventing this robbery.

4. That the indorsement of the license system by dealers in and manufacturers of intoxicants is prima facie evidence that license, whether high or low, promotes their business and gives them a monopoly of a traffic that is admitted to be a public evil, and proves the charge that high license is a bar to prohibition.

5. That high license has not appreciably decreased the evils of intemperance in our state and has proven itself as great a failure in practice as it has always been recognized in principle. That saloons are rapidly increasing and that here as elsewhere the reduction of their number is only temporary.

6. That it is good law, good logic, and sound reason that whosoever aids, abets, or countenances a crime is accessory thereto, and the republican and democratic parties do, by their license laws, give legal standing to the liquor crime and are therefore jointly responsible for its results.

7. That a great hinderance to the suppression of the traffic in intoxicating beverages by state law is founded in the legal right of citizens of other states and countries to import such liquors into prohibition states, and we declare it to be the immediate duty of congress under its power to regulate commerce, both foreign and interstate, to prohibit the importation of intoxicating beverages into any state where the saloon traffic is made a statutory crime. This is a national question of paramount importance, demanding the power of a national party.

8. That we especially confirm the action of our national convention on the sabbath question as judicious and wise, providing as it does for the protection of those of our citizens who religiously observe the seventh day as the sabbath.

9. That the announced policy of the national republican party to remove from tobacco and intoxicating beverages the internal-revenue taxes without abolishing the saloons and for the purpose of maintaining a high protective tariff upon articles of necessity in ordinary use would result in cheap whisky and tobacco and high-priced clothing and is opposed to the best interests of the people.

10. That we recognize the democratic party as the self-confessed advocate and defender of the liquor traffic, and while we admire its candor we deplore its lack of conscience regarding a great evil which is destroying the very foundations of our republic.

11. That it is the duty of the state legislature to require each railway company doing business in the state to provide suitable and adequate grain warehouses and stock yards as may be designated by the railway commissioners for the handling and shipping of grain, stock, and other products, under such rules and regulations as will insure to every shipper equal rights, facilities, and privileges.

12. Recognizing and declaring that the prohibition of the liquor traffic has become the dominant issue in national politics, we invite to full party fellowship all those who on this one question are with us agreed that this party can and will remove sectional differences, promote national unity, and insure the best welfare of our entire land.

13. We recognize with heartfelt thanks the educational work of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, the Good Templars, the Sons of Temperance, and the Scandinavian and all other total-abstinence societies which have contributed so much toward making the present measure of success possible.

Minnesota Farm and Labor Party.

Adopted at St. Paul Aug. 28, 1888.

We recognize only two parties, producers and non-producers, and the only issue at stake between those two parties is: Shall the people keep the fruits of their industry or shall non-producers enslave the many by their exactions?

Our experience in the past has proven that cabals and rings have obtained control of the various political parties and manipulated them in the interest of monopolies and corporations to the injury of society and the degradation of the tillers of the soil and all actual producers of wealth—the farmer forced to mortgage his farm, and finally to become a tenant at will, and the mechanic, mill operative, miner, and laborer degraded to live on an average rate of wages of $300 per year, in tenant houses, often two or more families in a single room; therefore,

In view of these facts we demand of the nation:

1. That the money needed for exchanges be issued direct to the people without the intervention of banks.

2. That while we are opposed to reducing the labor population of the United States to the level of the impoverished workingmen of Europe, we are, nevertheless, in favor of a thorough revision of the present tariff and a reduction of its rates wherever the same tends to enrich capital, and we favor placing on the free list all such articles as are made the basis of trusts which rob and impoverish the people.

3. The forfeiture of all unearned land-grants, and that monopoly shall be abolished by just and appropriate legislation; and we are opposed to alien and non-resident ownership of American soil; and we believe further that the government should restore nature's bounties that are stored within the bowels of the earth for the use of the human family to the purposes for which they were created.

4. That transportation of commodities and passengers by railroads shall be controlled by national and state legislatures in the interest of the people.

5. That the interstate-commerce law shall be so changed as to effectually prevent discriminations in favor of corporations individuals, and localities, and extortion by railroad, sleeping-car, express, and other companies acting as common carriers between the states; and we insist on the government establishing and operating a system of telegraphy in connection with the postoffice department.

From the state we demand:

1. The adoption of a system of voting embodying the principles of the Australian law, which abolishes the caucus system and secures to each voter an opportunity to cast a free and untrammeled ballot.

2. That the right to vote is inherent in citizenship without regard to sex.

3. The reduction of freight and passenger rates on railroads to a sum sufficient to pay only operating and maintaining expenses, when economically administered, and a fair rate of interest on the actual cost of the roads, thus saving to the producers of the state several million dollars now wrung from them to pay interest on fictitious stock.

4. The enactment of a law allowing the mortgagor to deduct from the amount due the mortgagee the amount of all taxes paid upon that part of the assessed valuation of the estate taxed represented by the mortgage.

5. The enactment of a factory-inspection law for the protection of the health and safety of employes in mines, factories, workshops, and places of business.

6. The enactment of a law defining the liability of employers for injuries sustained by employes in cases where proper safeguards have not been used, in occupations dangerous to life, limb, or health.

7. That eight hours shall constitute a day's work in all cities and towns on state and municipal work, and all such work shall be done by the day and not by contract.

8. The enactment of a law regulating the employment of detectives and peace officers and forbidding the employment of secret or private detectives by others than the state or municipal governments.

9. The enactment of a law to enforce the payment of wages weekly in lawful money by the employers of labor in cities, and by railroad companies and other corporations.

10. Whereas, Any rate of interest above the average increase of wealth of the nation is robbery; therefore we demand a reduction of interest in this state to a reasonable rate.

Nebraska Republicans.

Adopted at Omaha May, 15 1888.

We, the representatives of the republican party of the state of Nebraska, in convention assembled, do hereby condemn and arraign the democratic party and its administration of public affairs for its failure to keep the promises it made in its platform and by its leaders of the campaign of 1884; for denying to the people of Dakota the rights of statehood; for its failure to reduce the surplus by reduction of taxes and proper and necessary expenditures for public improvements; for the effort it is now making to tear down the American system of protection, fostered and built up by the republican party around the farms and factories of America.

As the business of the country now demands revision, the republican party, alive to the demands of every material interest, will see to it that such revision shall be made at the earliest practical day. We condemn the action of the democratic majority in congress, that after repeated pledges of tariff reform it has utterly failed, while having a large majority in the house of representatives, where tariff bills must originate, to bring about such reform, which must come from the party that has ever been the friend of the American laborer and producer.

We denounce the Mills bill as an attempt to force free trade upon the farms and manufactories and workingmen of the north, while giving protection to the sugar and cotton planter of the south. Under democratic administration great corporations have formed trusts and no attempt has been made by the democracy in power to check their growth. We condemn President Cleveland in the use he has made of the veto power and in ordering the return of the rebel flags, thereby disgracing an office that has been honored by Washington and sanctified by the blood of Lincoln.

We pledge ourselves to place in control of the nation men who will carry out the great mission of the republican party—a free ballot and a fair count.

Protection to each citizen everywhere, at home and abroad.

Protection to manufacturers and farmers, that this nation may keep her proper place as the grandest nation amid the nations and the ages.

The enactment of such laws as will destroy trusts and prevent corporations from controlling the commerce of this nation.

The enforcement of the civil-service laws.

The enactment of such laws as will compel corporations to listen to the voice of labor and submit to arbitration any difference of opinion, to the end that labor may be well paid, while ever careful of property rights, and holding no sympathy with those who would with the communist divide, or with the anarchist destroy. Reasserts its determination that the great railway corporations of this state which hold relations of closest interest to the people shall be the fairly paid servants of the state and not its masters. The work of legislative control in the state and nation shall continue until all cause for complaint of exorbitant rates and unjust discrimination in favor of individuals or localities shall cease to exist. Assuming the responsibility which fairly belongs to it of having originated all legislation looking to railroad control and the creation of those tribunals or commissions which have been enabled to grapple with corporate power, the republican party will see to it that by all needed enlargements of power these commissions, national and state, shall be armed for battle and for victory. While favoring such change in the constitution of this state as will permit the railroad commissioners to be elected by the people, it hereby voices its confidence in the existing board of transportation, and commends its efforts to obtain for Nebraska the same tariff of rates for freight and carriage of passengers as is accorded neighboring states similarly circumstanced. It is grossly unjust and a grievous wrong that Nebraska should pay more for the transportation of her products and the carriage of her supplies than her neighbors, Iowa, Minnesota, and Dakota, and the republicans of this state, with its 3,000 miles of easily constructed and cheaply maintained lines of railroad, will not cease their efforts until all wrongs be righted.

Nebraska Democrats.

Adopted at Omaha May 2, 1888.

The democracy of Nebraska, in representative convention assembled, proudly reaffirms its allegiance to those great and enduring principles of political faith which the democratic party of the nation has ever espoused and which have been since the days of Jefferson the chief and essential principles of a democratic form of government.

The administration of President Cleveland has and is entitled to the unqualified and loyal support of every true democrat, and the democracy of Nebraska is grateful for this opportunity to express its confidence and admiration of President Cleveland by a renewal of the support it yielded him in the national convention held in 1884. His public acts have ever been inspired by honesty, courage, and loyalty to the people. His administration has been safe, economical, and unmarred by the evils of plunder and corruption which marked with stigma and reproach those of his republican predecessors. His selection of men for public place has been wise and judicious, guided by the principle upon which his own great position has been directed—"public office is a public trust." His policy in all respects has wisely conserved the best interests of all the people of the nation.

The necessity for a reduction of public revenues has become so pressing as to emphasize the primary need of a readjustment of the tariff laws, to the end that the reduction and abolition of unnecessary taxes may be secured, and the democrats of Nebaska heartily indorse the views of President Cleveland on this issue, which were so admirably expressed in his message to the 1th congress, and they urge upon the national democracy about to assemble in St. Louis a similar expression from its counsels.

Only those whose ignorance renders their possession of the ballot a menace to the stability of our institutions can be deceived by the protectionist jugglers, who claim in the same breath that a protective tariff is necessary to manufacturers on account of a higher prevalent rate of wages in this country than in European countries, and also that such a tariff is necessary to laborers in order to maintain their wages at a higher rate than is prevalent in such c untries, and who pretend that such tariff is beneficent to consumers by reducing the price of manufactured articles, while at the same time insisting that it is necessary to manufacturers in order to prevent the importation of cheaper manufactured articles of the same kind from abroad.

It is further urged upon the democracy of the country that a general denunciation of the gigantic monopolies termed "trusts" should be made and such legislation enacted to prevent their existence—believing that the abolition of custom duties upon all articles thus monopolized would aid in accomplishing the desired end.

The forfeiture of all unearned land grants and the restoration of such public lands to the public domain is demanded.

Continued fidelity to the interests of the workingmen, farmers, and producers generally is pledged by the Nebraska democracy, and legislation for the better securing to the toilers of their rights and privileges is recommended.

Sympathy for the wronged and oppressed of every land is avowed; and at this crisis of affairs of the peop e of Ireland hearty encouragement is expressed to them in their struggle for liberty and self-government.

Liberal pensions to disabled and needy veterans of the union army are recommended to congress; but jobbery and favoritism such as were exposed by President Cleveland's veto measures are emphatically condemned.

For the best interests of all the people of the United States and their more harmonious cementing into a fraternal nation, sectional issues and the keeping alive of the hatreds of the late civil war are reprehended and denounced.

Nebraska Prohibition.

Adopted at Lincoln Feb. 15, 1888.

1. The prohibitionists of Nebraska acknowledge Almighty God as the rightful sovereign of all men.

2. The greatest issue before the American people is the absolute prohibition, in state and nation, of the alcholic liquor traffic. License of this traffic, high or low, is public bribery and a political crime of unequaled enormity. To vote the ticket of a party favoring and legalizing this monster crime of all the agea is to become guilty of all the crimes growing out of this appalling evil.

3. We demand of congress the reneal of the infamous internal-revenue law which authorizes United States officials to grant federal permits for the traffic in alcholic liquors to illicit outlaws in prohibition states and local territories.

4. Every American citizen of proper age and sound mind shou'd be entitled to equal rights and privileges before the law, without regard to sex, race, or color. We are in favor of extending immediate municipal suffrage to the women of Nebraska.

5. We press the indictment against the republican party of Nebraska, charging it with committing political perjury to retain the votes of the liquor dealers by shamelessly repudiating its submission pledge of 1886, and further demonstrating the cowardice and trickery of its leaders by receding from the pledge in 1887 and relegating the question of submission to the republican party primaries, which are overwhelmingly controlled by the friends of the murder mills.

6. We charge the democratic party with disloyalty to the principles of free government in denying by platform utterance and legislative vote the right of the people to say whether or not this gigantic crime shall be outlawed in state and nation.

7. We protest, in the name of sober manhood, pleading womanhood, and neglected and starving children, against the co'd-blooded attempt of unscrupulous political demagogues to shield the liquor traffic by a disgusting effort to fight another presidentia1 campaign on the tariff issue, while this liquor problem, a thousand times more vast in importance, is sought to be ignored.

8. We favor reasonable and effective regulation of all decent branches of public commerce and invite all wage-workers to join the prohibition party in its crusade against all enemies of honest labor.

9. We are in favor of granting pensions to all disabled union soldiers and sailors of the late war who are dependent upon their own labor for support, without requiring any but proof of such disability.

Nebraska Union Labor.

Adopted at Hastings Sept. 4, 1888.

We ask the next legislature to fix the minimum local charges, as required by the constitution, for transportation in this state, and that said rates be no higher than through rates, with a fair per cent added for actual terminal expenses, and establishing a power upon which its execution shall be made mandatory. The policy of discrimination against the short haul paralyzes our cities and impoverishes our farmers. The system of extortionate local freights strangles our manufacturing and jobbing interests and compels our farmers to remain mere exporters of the cheapest raw products. The true economic and statesmanlike policy of every road should be to make the country through which it passes as wealthy as possible, instead of impoverishing it to build up remote centers of trade.

We favor a revision of the tariff in the interest of the producer and laborer. The import duty on articles in common use should be placed as low as is consistent with the production of the necessary revenue. Lumber, sugar, wool, woolen goods in common use, salt, coal, iron, and all raw products upon which labor may be expended should be placed upon the free list.

We unequivocally condemn the proposition, from whatever source emanating, to remove the tax from spirits, and regard with execration and contempt the statesmanship that would offer cheap whisky and tobacco, instead of cheap clothing, sugar, salt, and lumber.

We denounce all organizations of capitalists to limit production, control supplies of the necessaries of life, and advance prices as detrimental to the best interests of society and an unjustifiable interference with the natural laws of competition and trade and ask their prompt suppression by law.

We regard the employment by corporations of the armed private military force known as Pinkerton's men, unsanctioned and uncalled for by the civil power, who have attacked and arrested private citizens, as a gross subversion of our constitution, which says, article 1, section 5: "No person shall be deprived of liberty without due process of law," and article 1, section 17, "The military shall be in direct subordination to the civil power." We unqualifiedly condemn the executive which permitted such invasion without protest or attempted hindrance, and ask that legislation, if any is needed, be had to prevent its recurrence forever in the future.

Resolved, That this convention condemns the action of the last legislature in the recount of the votes of the people on the constitutional amendment changing the legislative session from forty to sixty days, and that we denounce said action as subversive of the elective franchise and the liberties of the people, and we further demand the revision of said recount by the coming legislature or by the Supreme court of the state, believing said legislative action was contrary to the constitution of the state.

Resolved, The right to vote is inherent in citizenship, irrespective of sex, and is properly within the province of state legislation.

We request our next legislature to amend the lately enacted alien land law so as to absolutely prohibit any non-resident alien from owning land in Nebraska. We also ask that land-ownership be limited to such reasonable amount as the owner can use, to the end that all who desire may own a home, the surest safeguard of a free republic.

We favor an amendment of the constitution of the state of Nebraska so as to admit of the investment of the permanent state school fund in first mortgage registered district bonds and improved real estate.

Wisconsin Republicans.

Adopted at Madison May 9, 1888.

The republicans of Wisconsin, by their representatives in this convention, reaffirm their adherence to the principles set forth in the platforms adopted by the national conventions of the republican party. On the subject of protection their views are expressed in the platform which Abraham Lincoln approved, and on which he was elected—viz.: That "while providing revenue for the support of the general government by duties on imports, sound policy requires such adjustment of these imposts as to encourage the industrial interests of the whole country," and we commend the policy of national exchanges which secures to the workingmen liberal wages, to agriculture remunerative prices, to merchants and manufacturers an adequate reward for their skill, labor, and enterprise, and to the nation commercial prosperity and independence. While in favor of such a revision of the tariff and reduction of the revenue as will avoid accumulating a surplus in the treasury after meeting the current expenses of the government and paying the national debt as rapidly as it matures, we demand that the revision shall be made by those friendly to the principle of protection and not by its enemies. We denounce the last annual message of President Cleveland as an attack upon American industries in the interests of free trade.

We oppose the tariff bill now pending in congress, reported by a majority of the committee on ways and means, as an unjust, dishonest, and sectional measure, shaped to meet the exigencies of a party instead of being designed to promote the general interest, and unfairly aiming a blow at the industries of one section of the country while shielding those of the other.

We protest against the methods by which in several states of the union large bodies of voters are practically disfranchised in order to promote the election of democratic presidents, congressmen, and other officials. These practices pervert and poison the sources of the nation's political life and make a monarchy of a republican form of government. Every friend of free institutions should sternly oppose the party which practices, tolerates, or consents to profit by these crimes that outrage the rights of the citizens of the whole republic. The evil complained of is an evil of the present time. To protest against it and to demand that it be corrected is not an appeal to sectional prejudices or bygone issues, as is falsely alleged by those who profit by it. The republicans of Wisconsin desire the prosperity of all sections of the country and friendly relations with all.

They further condemn, as tending to bring a salutary and needed reform into disrepute and contempt, the sweeping changes in the subordinate officials of the government made by the present national administration to reward and encourage partisan services, in flagrant disregard of the pledges which the president voluntarily gave when a candidate for election and of the professions which from time to time he has since submitted to the credulity of the public.

Justice and precedent alike demand, and have for years demanded, the admission of Dakota, with its population of more than six hundred thousand intelligent, industrious, and prosperous people, as a state of the union. Its exclusion on partisan grounds solely by the democratic majority of the house of representatives deserves the condemnation of all good citizens, and is an extreme example of a narrow, violent, and unpatriotic party spite.

It is the duty of congress to pass and of the president to approve a wise, just, and comprehensive pension-bill, giving relief to disabled veteran soldiers and subsistence to the helpless widows and orphans of deceased soldiers, without regard to the time when disability was incurred or the cause of death. Our great and prosperous country can well afford to show its grateful appreciation by making liberal provisions for these purposes.

The republicans of Wisconsin, represented in this convention, present the name of Gov. Jeremiah M. Rusk to the national republican convention, which meets in Chicago the 19th of June next, as a candidate in every respect worthy to receive its nomination for the presidency. Gov. Rusk's character and capacity have been proved by long and varied services in public life, both military and civil. He was one of the most gallant soldiers who fought in the war to preserve the union. In the various positions he has occupied in civil life, as a representative in congress for many years and as governor of this state for three successive terms, he has shown a fidelity to republican principles, an honesty, courage, and wise judgment such as eminently fit him for the duties of chief magistrate of the republic.

Wisconsin Democrats.

Adopted at Madison May 1, 1888.

The democrats of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, heartily and fully indorse the wise, conservative, and patriotic course of Grover Cleveland as president of the United States. We take pride in the manly courage with which he has faced the hosts of protected monopoly and advocated the reduction of war-tariff taxes, now retained only upon the every-day necessities of the farmer, the artisan, and the laborer, having long since been removed from the incomes, the bank capital, and the bank checks of the rich. We denounce the system of tariff taxes that, while it creates a dangerous annual surplus in the national treasury of $155,000,000, at the same time indirectly taxes the producers of the west for the sole benefit of protected manufacturers $9 for every $1 that goes into the treasury. We therefore declare that the burden of taxation should rest upon those who use luxuries, rather than upon those who use only the necessities of life; that taxation should be limited to the requirements of the government; that a greater tax is robbery under a form of law. We therefore demand that taxation be limited to the needs of government, economically administered, and be levied upon the luxuries rather than on the necessities of life, and that taxation be reduced in strict conformity to the principles laid down by President Cleveland in his message to the 1th congress.

Wisconsin Prohibitionists.

Adopted at Milwaukee May 24, 1888.

The prohibition party of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, adopt the following platform:

1. Reverently recognizing the Divine Providence and guidance in human affairs, we invoke the aid of Almighty God in securing righteous civil government.

2. We believe the traffic in intoxicating beverages is a great and constant source of crime, of immorality, of destruction of body and of imbecility of mind, of poverty and pauperism, the arch-enemy of labor, and the great fountain of social and political corruption.

3. We insist on state and national prohibition and the enforcement thereof through a party whose officers are thoroughly in sympathy with the same as the only and immediate remedy for this great and most urgent evil.

4. We regard all forms of license, high or low, as a fresh acceptance of an insufferable traffic and its readoption into our social life and civil policy; and we hold that all political parties which favor license, and all men who vote for such parties, or in other ways aid in the continuance of the liquor traffic, do make themselves accessory to the evils which flow from this traffic and equally responsible in effect with the man who carries it on.

5. We sincerely sympathize with all lawful efforts on the part of workingmen to improve their condition and to make themselves more equal partakers in the general prosperity; but we declare that total abstinence for the individual and prohibition of the liquor traffic by the state lie at the threshold of labor reform.

6. In securing political and economic and social ends we rely only upon sound reason and public assent, on free discussion and a conscientious use of our rights as citizens.

7. We favor thorough, liberal, and complete public education; a more careful and just imposition of taxes, and a vigilant supervision of the uses to which the franchises intrusted to corporations are put. In all public measures we insist on the common welfare as the only criterion of sound legislation and wise social policy.

8. We are opposed to the issuing of free passes by any and all railroads for use in this state, except to their employes, and we are in favor of the passage of a law making it a crime for any state officer or member of the legislature or any judge of any court in this state to accept or use such pass.

9. We favor the enactment of a law which will render liable for damages any railroad corporation whose employes may suffer injuries resulting from negligence of a co-employe.

10. We recognize in the work of the members of the W. C. T. U. and in the work of all other temperance women an effective and powerful ally in temperance reform, and bid them godspeed in their efforts for the suppression of the liquor traffic.

Wisconsin Union Labor.

Adopted at Oshkosh July 23, 1888.

The state convention of the union labor party, representing the business men, farmers, and workingmen of Wisconsin, heartily indorse the national platform of the union labor party as adopted in Cincinnati, May 16, 1888, and in addition demand the following laws and regulations for the state of Wisconsin:

1. The taxation of all notes and mortgages. No mortgage or note shall be collected by law unless taxes have been fully paid upon it by the owner at the place where the mortgaged property is located or the party issuing the note resides.

2. All laws should be simplified so that there is but one law on one subject, and that worded in plain language, which will enable the people to understand the law without paying enormous fees to lawyers

3. The one-man power has no place in a republic; hence all public officials, as far as practicable, should be elected by a direct vote of the people and the voters be allowed to recall all unfaithful, inefficient, and dishonest officials.

4. The bureau of labor statistics should be conducted in the interest of the whole people and not serve to furnish sinecures for political hacks.

5. A bureau of agricultural statistics should be established.

6. Congress should revise the patent laws, giving inventors a premium for their inventions and then giving the free use of such inventions to all the people, which will prevent the system of monopoly now existing, and stop the robbery of both inventors and the people by heartless and greedy capitalists.

The politicians of the republican and democratic parties have proved by their action that they have no sympathies in common with the masses of the people, but are either monopolists themselves or the tools of monopolists. The state conventions of both pledged themselves to abolish the contractors' ring in convict labor, yet voted down every measure looking to that end in the state legislature.

The union labor party is progressive in its nature and will further any measure that will aid in the elevation of man and secure universal co-operation in place of our present system of competition.

ESTIMATED AGE OF THE EARTH.—According to geological computations the minimum age of the earth since the formations of the primitive soils is 21,000,000 years—6,700,000 years for the primordial formations, 6,400,000 years for the primary age, 2,300,000 years for the secondary age, and 400,000 years for the tertiary age, and 100 000 since the appearance of man upon the globe.

TRANSFERRING ENGRAVINGS.—It is said that engravings may be transferred on white paper as follows: Place the engraving a few seconds over the vapor of iodine. Dip a slip of white paper in a weak solution of starch, and when dry in a weak solution of oil of vitriol. When again dry lay a slip upon the engraving and place both for a few minutes under a press. The engraving will be reproduced in all its delicacy and finish. Lithographs and printed matter cannot be so transferred with equal success.

TO TELL PURE WATER.—The color, odor, taste, and purity of water can be ascertained as follows: Fill a large bottle made of colorless glass with water; look through the water at some black object. Pour out some of the water and leave the bottle half full; cork the bottle and place it for a few hours in a warm place; shake up the water, remove the cork, and critically smell the air contained in the bottle. If it has any smell, particularly if the odor is repulsive, the water should not be used for domestic purposes. By heating the water an odor is evolved that would not otherwise appear. Water fresh from the well is usually tasteless, even if it contains a large amount of putrescible organic matter. All water for domestic purposes should be perfectly tasteless and remain so even after it has been warmed, since warming often develops a taste in water which is tasteless when cold.

DANGERS OF FOUL AIR.—If the condensed breath collected on the cool window panes of a room where a number of persons have been assembled be burned a smell as of singed hair will show the presence of organic matter, and if the condensed breath be allowed to remain on the windows for a few days it will be found on examination by the microscope that it is alive with animalcula. It is the inhalation of air containing such putrescent matter which causes half of the sick headaches, which might be avoided by a circulation of fresh air.

SPORTING.

THE BASE-BALL CHAMPIONS.

For years the New York Base-Ball club has been struggling for a position at the head of the National league, but it was not until 1888 that it succeeded in capturing the pennant. The fight was a pretty one, but by heavy and timely hitting, combined with the superb work of Keefe, Welch, Titcomb, and Crane in the pitcher's box and Ewing behind the bat, they won with a comfortable lead. The Chicagos were in first place for over half the season, but owing to a total inability to hit the ball during August and the early part of September they fell hopelessly behind.

St. Louis won the championship in the American association as usual, and then played a series of thirteen games with the National league leaders for the championship of the world. The first games were played in New York and the "Giants" soon showed their superiority over President Von der Ahe's team. Four games were played in New York and four in St. Louis, the remaining five being played in the intermediate base-ball cities. It was decidedly a one-sided affair and after the first five games, of which the New Yorks won four, it was perfectly apparent that the American association champions could not travel in the same class with them.

Motive Force of the World.

Four-fifths of the engines working in the world have been constructed during the last twenty-five years. France owns 49,590 stationary or locomotive boilers, 7,000 locomotives, and 1,850 boats' boilers; Germany has 59,000 boilers, 10,000 locomotives, and 1,700 ships' boilers; Austria, 12,000 boilers and 2,800 locomotives. The force equivalent to the working steam engines represents—in the United States, 7,500,000 horse power; in England, 7,000,000 horse power; in Germany, 4,500,000; in France, 3,000,000, and in Austria, 1,500,000. In these figures the motive power of the locomotives is not included, whose number in all the world amounts to 105,000, representing a total of 3,000,000 horse power. Adding this amount to the other powers, we obtain the total of 46,000,000 horse power. A steam horse power is equal to three actual horses' power, and a living horse is equal to seven men. The steam engines of the world represent, therefore, approximately the work of 1,000,000,000 men, or more than double the working population of the earth, whose total population is 2,455,923,000 inhabitants.

The Constitution, Its Formation and Adoption.

Immediately upon the close of the revolutionary war congress perceived the necessity of some compact between the colonies that should give effect and permanency to the federal union and define more accurately the powers of congress. In April, 1777, articles of confederation had been adopted, but they did not answer the changed conditions that followed the treaty of peace and the establishment of the new government. One of the chief difficulties with the articles of confederation was that they did not vest the power of regulating commerce with foreign nations in congress. Nor did they make any provision for the disposition of the western lands, nor could congress fix the limits of states which were claiming large quantities of adjacent territory. Each state, having reserved the right to regulate its own trade, imposed upon foreign productions, as well as upon those of its sister states, such import duties as its own interests dictated. Under this system arose rates of duties which, while favorable to one state, were ruinous to another, and this led to discriminating and retaliatory rates, wholly at variance with the idea of national unity. This led to what was known as Shay's rebellion.

The pecuniary distress of the country was greatly enhanced by large importations of foreign goods for which the people could not pay. To remedy this difficulty it was proposed in 1786 to call a convention of all the states "to take into consideration the state of trade and the expediency of a uniform system of commercial regulations for their common interest and permanent harmony." The commissioners met at Annapolis in September of that year, but the attendance was so small that the convention adjourned to meet at Philadelphia in May, 1787. Congress adopted a resolution recommending the convention, and delegates were appointed to it by all the states except Rhode Island. The convention met May 14, 1787. The first question before the convention was whether the confederation should be amended or a new government formed. The delegates from some of the states had been instructed only to amend, and the resolution of congress recommended the convention "for the sole and express purpose of revising the articles of confederation." A majority of the convention, however, resolved to form "a national government consisting of a supreme judicial, legislative, and executive organization."

Of the various plans proposed for such a government it is impossible in the short space at command to speak in detail. The constitution as we now have it, with a few exceptions, was made and dated Sept. 17, 1787, and immediately reported to congress for ratification. It was by congress submitted to the states and by them adopted in the following order: Delaware, Dec. 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, Dec. 12; New Jersey, Dec. 18; Georgia, Jan. 2, 1788; Connecticut, Jan. 9; Massachusetts, Feb. 7; Maryland, April 28; South Carolina, May 23; New Hampshire, June 21, which, being the ninth to ratify, gave effect to the constitution by its terms. Virginia ratified it June 27, New York, July 26, and North Carolina, Aug. 7. Rhode Island did not call a convention but ratified it later. After the ratification of the constitution by New Hampshire the subject was referred to a committee of congress, which, on the 14th of July, 1788, reported a resolution for carrying the new government into operation. This resolution passed Sept. 13, 1788. It appointed the first Wednesday in January, 1789, for choosing electors of president, the first Wednesday in February for the electors to meet in their respective states to vote for president and vice-president, and the first Wednesday in March to commence proceedings under the new constitution. This happened to fall on the 4th of March and that has been inauguration day since, although Washington was not inaugurated until April 30, 1789.

PREAMBLE.

We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION I.

All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

SECTION II.

CLAUSE 1.—The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

2. No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of 25 years and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of the state in which he shall be chosen.

3. Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every 30,000, but each state shall have at least one representative; and until such enumeration shall be made the state of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

4. When vacancies happen in the representation from any state the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

5. The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SECTION III.

CLAUSE 1.—The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise during the recess of the legislature of any state the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shal then fill such vacancies.

3. No person shall be a senator who shall not have atta ned to the age of 30 years and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen.

4. The vice-president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

5. The senate shall choose their other officers, and also a president pro tempore in the absence of the vice-president or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

6. The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried the chief justice shall preside, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

7. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

SECTION IV.

CLAUSE 1.—The times, places, and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the congress may at any time, by law, make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

2. The congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SECTION V.

CLAUSE 1.—Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

2. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

3. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

4. Neither house, during the session of congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SECTION VI.

CLAUSE 1. The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

2. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SECTION VII.

CLAUSE 1. All bills for raising revenues shall originate in the house of representatives; but the senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

2. Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the president of the United States. If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and, if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays; and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

3. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the president of the United States, and before the same shall take effect shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SECTION VIII.

CLAUSE 1. The congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

4. To establish a uniform rule of naturalization and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States.

6. To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States.

7. To establish postoffices and post roads.

8. To promote the progress of science and useful arts by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries.

9. To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme court.

10. To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas and offenses against the law of nations.

11. To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water.

12. To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years.

13. To provide and maintain a navy.

14. To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces.

15. To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions.

16. To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the states respectively the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by congress.

17. To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states and the acceptance of congress, become the seat of the government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the same shall be for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards, and other needful buildings. And,

2. Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

5. In the case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice-president, and the congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability both of the president and vice-president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed or a president shall be elected.

6. The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States or any of them.

3. The president shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

ARTICLE III.

He shall from time to time give to the congress information of the state of the union and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

The judges, both of the Supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall at stated times receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SECTION II.

CLAUSE 1. The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity arising under this constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more states; between a state and citizens of another state; between citizens of different states; between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants of different states, and between a state, or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens, or subjects.

2. In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, and those in which a state shall be party, the Supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned the Supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the congress shall make.

3. The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the state where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any state the trial shall be at such place or places as the congress may by law have directed.

SECTION III.

CLAUSE 1. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort.

2. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

3. The congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

SECTION II.

CLAUSE 1. The citizens of each state shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states.

2. A person charged in any state with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another state, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime.

3. No person held to service or labor in one state under the laws thereof escaping into another shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SECTION III.

CLAUSE 1.—New states may be admitted by the congress into this union, but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned as well as of the congress.

2. The congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States, and nothing in this constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States or of any particular state.

SECTION IV.

The United States shall guarantee to every state in this union a republican form of government and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of this constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article, and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

CLAUSE I.—All debts contracted and engagements entered into before the adoption of this constitution shall be as valid against the United States under this constitution as under the confederation.

2. This constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

3. The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this constitution, but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the conventions of nine states shall be sufficient for the establishment of this constitution between the states so ratifying the same.

Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the states present the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names. [Signed by the members of the convention.]

AMENDMENTS.

At the first session of the first congress, begun and held in the city of New York on Wednesday, the 4th of March, 1789, many amendments to the national constitution were offered for consideration. The congress proposed ten of them to the legislatures of the several states. These were ratified by the constitutional number of state legislatures by the middle of December, 1791. Five other amendments have since been proposed and duly ratified and have become, with the other ten, a part of the national constitution. The following are the amendments:

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in the time of war and public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor to be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed $20, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States than according to the rules of common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail shall not be required nor excessive fines imposed nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

The enumeration in the constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution nor prohibited by it to the states are reserved to the states respectively or to the people.

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another state or by citizens or subjects of any foreign state.

ARTICLE XII.

The electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for president and vice-president, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as president and in distinct ballots the person voted for as vice-president, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as president and of all persons voted for as vice-president, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for president shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as president, the house of representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the president; but in choosing the president the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote. A quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the house of representatives shall not choose a president, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the 4th day of March next following, then the vice-president shall act as president, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the president. The person having the greatest number of votes as vice-president shall be the vice-president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list the senate shall choose the vice-president; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of president shall be eligible to that of vice-president of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

SECTION I.

Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SECTION II.

Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION I.

All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SECTION II.

Representatives shall be appointed among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for president and vice-president of the United States, representatives in congress, the executive or judicial officers of a state, or the members of the legislature thereof is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such state, being 21 years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens 21 years of age in such state.

SECTION III.

No person shall be a senator or representative in congress, or elector of president and vice-president, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any state, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any state legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any state, to support the constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each house, remove such disability.

SECTION IV.

The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any state shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave, but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SECTION V.

Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

SECTION I.

The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

SECTION II.

The congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Miscellaneous Information.

SCHOOL-HOUSE AGAINST SALOON.

The following tables present in detail for the year 1886 the distribution throughout the nation of the efforts in behalf of public education compared with the extent of the liquor traffic. The figures for education are taken from the report of the United States commissioner of education for 1885-6, while the amount spent for intoxicants in each state is based on the $700,000,000 estimated by Mr. F. N. Barret, published by the United States bureau of statistics, to be spent annually in the nation for intoxicating drinks. This amount is in our estimate distributed throughout the states in proportion to the number of their liquor dealers, as given in the internal revenue reports. "Liquor dealer" in all cases means a person having a United States permit to deal in intoxicants:

FACTS ABOUT TERRITORIES SEEKING ADMISSION.

DAKOTA.—The territory of Dakota was organized in pursuance of an act of congress approved March 2, 1861. It comprises an area of 150,932 square miles, or 96,596,480 acres. The population of the territory by the census of 1880 was 135,177. A special census was had in the territory in 1885, which showed a population of 415,610. In 1886 the governor, from the data filed in the executive departments of the territory, estimated the population at 500,000, and in 1887 he estimated the population of the territory at 568,477. The total assessment of property in the territory in 1886 amounted to $106,499,549, and in 1887 to $157,084,365. The increase of 1885, as stated by the governor, over the previous year was 23 per centum; of 1886 over 1885 nearly 25 per centum, and of 1887 over 1886 20 per centum. The number of acres of land assessed for taxation in 1887 was 24,061,784.

MONTANA.—The territory of Montana was organized by an act of congress approved May 26, 1864. It comprises an area of 143,776 square miles or 92,016,648 acres. The population of the territory, according to the census of 1880, was 39,159. In 1884 the total vote cast for delegate in congress was 26,969, and in 1886 32,262, being an increase during the two years of 5,293 votes. It is estimated that this number of votes indicates a population of 151,472. With a corresponding increase for the two succeeding years from 1886 to 1888 it is reasonable to estimate a population by November, 1888, of 175,000. The total receipts into the territorial treasury from taxation for the year ending Dec. 31, 1886, were $334,132. The total valuation of property assessed for taxation was, in 1886, $55,076,871.

WASHINGTON.—Washington territory was organized by an act of congress approved March 2, 1853. It contains an area of 79,994 square miles, or 44,796,160 acres. Of this area 4,107,558 acres are comprised within Indian reservations. The population of the territory by the government census of 1880 was 75,116. According to the territorial census the population in 1885 was 127,292, and in 1887 143,669, showing an increase between 1885 and 1887 of 16,377. At a very moderate estimate the population of the territory at the time of the submission of the constitution to the vote of the people in November next will amount to 160,000.

IDAHO.—The territory of Idaho was organized under the act of March, 1863. It comprises an area of 90,932 square miles and in 1880 had a population of 32,610. Careful estimates show the territory to have now a population of about 98,000. The total valuation of taxable property in 1887 was $20,741,192, an increase of over $3,000,000 over the previous year. The territory has 893 miles of railway. The grain crop for 1887 is reported at 2,374,325 bushels. Mining is the chief industry. The product of gold, silver, and lead for the year 1887 is estimated as follows: Gold, $2,417,429; silver, $4,633,160; lead, $2,195,000. In 1886 the territory cast 15,258 votes for delegate to congress.

NEW MEXICO.—New Mexico was organized as a territory by act of congress approved March 9, 1850. It comprises an area of 120,210 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. The Indian reservations in the territory and the number of acres in each are as follows: Mescalero Apache, 474,240; Navajo, 8,205,440; Zuni, 205,040; Pueblos, 691,840, making a total of 9,586,560 acres in Indian reservations. The population of New Mexico by the census of 1870 was 91,874, and by the census of 1880 119,000, showing a gain of 27,791 in ten years. There was an official census of the territory in 1885 which showed a population of 134,141, or a gain of 14,576 in five years. The governor of the territory, in his report for the year 1887, states that it is safe to say that nearly that number in addition has been added during the past two years, and that at the present rate of increase the census of 1890 will show a population of not less than 200,000. The aggregate assessment of taxable property in 1886 was $56,000,000. This assessment is found after deducting $300 exemption from every tax-payer.

NATURALIZATION LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The conditions under and the manner in which an alien may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States are prescribed by sections 2,165-74 of the revised statutes of the United States.

DECLARATION OF INTENTION.

The alien must declare upon oath before a Circuit or District court of the United States, or a District or Supreme court of the territories, or a court of record of any of the states having common-law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, two years at least prior to his admission, that it is, bona fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince or state, and particularly to the one of which he may be at the time a citizen or subject.

OATH ON APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION.

He must, at the time of his application to be admitted, declare on oath, before some one of the courts above specified, "that he will support the constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounces and abjures all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty, and particularly, by name, to the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty of which he was before a citizen or subject," which proceedings must be recorded by the clerk of the court.

CONDITIONS FOR CITIZENSHIP.

If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court to which the alien has applied that he has resided continuously within the United States for at least five years, and within the state or territory where such court is at the time held one year at least; and that during that time "he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same," he will be admitted to citizenship.

TITLES OF NOBILITY.

If the applicant has borne any hereditary title or order of nobility he must make an express renunciation of the same at the time of his application.

SOLDIERS.

Any alien of the age of 21 years and upward who has been in the armies of the United States and has been honorably discharged therefrom may become a citizen on his petition, without any previous declaration of intention, provided that he has resided in the United States at least one year previous to his application and is of good moral character.

MINORS.

Any alien under the age of 21 years who has resided in the United States three years next preceding his arriving at that age, and who has continued to reside therein to the time he may make application to be admitted a citizen thereof, may, after he arrives at the age of 21 years, and after he has resided five years within the United States, including the three years of his minority, be admitted a citizen; but he must make a declaration on oath and prove to the satisfaction of the court that for two years next preceding it has been his bona fide intention to become a citizen.

CHILDREN OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.

The children of persons who have been duly naturalized, being under the age of 21 years at the time of the naturalization of their parents, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens thereof.

CITIZENS' CHILDREN WHO ARE BORN ABROAD.

The children of persons who now are or have been citizens of the United States are, though born out of the limits and jurisdiction of the United States, considered as citizens thereof.

PROTECTION ABROAD TO NATURALIZED CITIZENS.

Section 2,000 of the revised statutes of the United States declares that "all naturalized citizens of the United States, while in foreign countries, are entitled to and shall receive from this government the same protection of persons and property which is accorded to native-born citizens."

RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

The right to vote comes from the state and is a state gift. Naturalization is a federal right and is a gift of the union, not of any one state. In nearly one-half the union aliens (who have declared intentions) vote and have the right to vote equally with naturalized or native-born citizens. In the other half only actual citizens may vote. [See table of qualifications for voting in each state on another page.] The federal naturalization laws apply to the whole union alike, and provide that no alien male may be naturalized until after five years' residence. Even after five years' residence and due naturalization he is not entitled to vote unless the laws of the state confer the privilege upon him, and he may vote in one state (Michigan) six months after landing, if he has immediately declared his intention, under United States law, to become a citizen.

THE CAPITOL.

The capitol is situated in latitude 30 degrees 53 minutes 20.4 seconds north and longitude 77 degrees 35.7 seconds west from Greenwich. It fronts east and stands on a plateau eighty-eight feet above the level of the Potomac.

The southeast corner-stone of the original building was laid on the 18th of September, 1793, by President Washington, with masonic ceremonies. It is constructed of sandstone from quarries in Aquia creek, Virginia. The work was done under the direction of Stephen H. Hallett, James Oban, George Hadfield, and B. H. Latrobe, architects. The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passage-way connected them. On the 24th of August, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by fire, set by the British. The damage to the building was immediately repaired. In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bulfinch. The original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations, and repairs, up to 1827, was $2,433,844.13.

The corner-stone of the extensions was laid on the 4th of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator. This work was prosecuted under the architectural direction of Thomas U. Walter, till 1865, when he resigned. It was completed under the supervision of Edward Clark, the present architect of the capitol. The material used in the walls is white marble from the quarries at Lee, Mass., and that in the columns from the quarries at Cockeysville, Md. These extensions were first occupied for legislative purposes Jan. 4, 1859.

The entire length of the building from north to south is 751 feet 4 inches and its greatest dimension from east to west 350 feet. The area covered by the building is 153,112 square feet.

The dome of the original central building was constructed of wood. This was replaced in 1856 by the present structure of cast iron. It was completed in 1865. The entire weight of iron used is 8,909,200 pounds.

The dome is crowned by a bronze statue of Freedom. It is 19 feet 6 inches high and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was modeled by Crawford. The height of the dome above the base line of the east front is 287 feet 5 inches. The height from the top of the balustrade of the building is 217 feet 11 inches. The greatest diameter at the base is 135 feet 5 inches.

The rotunda is 95 feet 6 inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is 180 feet 3 inches.

The senate chamber is 113 feet 3 inches in length by 80 feet 3 inches in width and 36 feet in height. The gallery will accommodate 1,000 persons.

The representatives' hall is 139 feet in length by 93 feet in width and 36 feet in height.

The Supreme court-room was occupied by the senate until December, 1859, the court having previously occupied the room beneath, now used as a law library.

THE NEW NAVY.

On the 6th of October, 1883, the United States cruiser Baltimore was launched at Cramp's ship-yard, Philadelphia. The Baltimore was the first protected cruiser built for the new navy. The few wooden vessels which carry the flag of the country are being gradually condemned and sold out of the service. In the natural order of things it will be, according to department estimates, not more than nine years before the entire wooden navy will have disappeared. The new navy will be all of steel, and after designs which have been tested and proved successful. Fifteen of such vessels, which have been authorized by congress, are in course of construction or have been completed. The list includes 8 protected cruisers, 4 gunboat cruisers, 1 dynamite cruiser, 1 first-class torpedo boat, and 1 dispatch boat. Besides these provision has been made to construct two armor-clad vessels of about 6,000 tons each, and to cost, exclusive of armament, $2,500,000 each, and several monitors. The cruisers which are named for cities of the Union are as follows: Atlanta, 3,189 tons; Boston, 3,180 tons; Chicago, 4,500 tons; Charleston, 3,730 tons; Baltimore, 4,413 tons; Newark, 4,083 tons; Philadelphia, 4,324 tons, and the San Francisco, 4,083 tons. These are all very large and finely equipped steam war ships. The Baltimore has twin screws and is the first vessel so equipped in the navy. She is 335 feet long over all, her beam amidships is 48.5 feet, her mean draft is 19.5, and her displacement is 4,413 tons. The indicated horse power of the engines is 7,500 at natural draught and 10,750 at forced draught, and they are expected to drive her along at the rate of nineteen knots an hour. The vessel has two masts fitted with military tops. The Baltimore has a protective deck of thick steel plates, and under this, down below the water-line, are placed the rudder and the steam steering gear. The armament consists of a main battery of four eight-inch breech-loading rifled guns on the poop and forecastle, six six-inch rifled guns in sponsons eighteen feet above the water, a second battery of six rapid-firing six-pounders, six Hotchkiss revolving cannon, four Gatling guns, and five torpedo launching tubes or guns.

Oct. 13, 1888, the United States steel gunboat Petrel was launched at the shipyard of the Columbia Iron Works, Baltimore, and was baptized by Miss Virginia Schley. The Petrel is a large steam war vessel, 175 feet long and 870 tons displacement. She has four six-inch breech-loading guns in her main battery, and the cost of the hull and engines was $247,000. The successful construction of the gunboat here showed the capacity for larger work of the kind.

THE ORIGIN OF NO-MAN'S-LAND.

Time was when No-Man's-Land was a part of Mexico. Afterward it was a part of the republic of Texas, but it never was any part of the state of Texas. Let the reader take a good map of the United States, and then, while looking at it, call to mind the fact that when, in 1803, the United States purchased what was at that time known as the Louisiana territory the boundary line of this territory followed the Red River west from the 95th to the 100th meridian, and then it followed the 100th meridian north to the Arkansas river. South and west of the line, as here traced, the land belonged to Mexico, and it remained Mexican territory until after the war between the United States and that country.

But before coming down as far in United States history as the Mexican war the reader should recall the fact that the Indian territory was organized between the years 1835 and 1837, and that the western boundary of this territory was the 100th meridian, for the very good reason, if no other were to be had, that that meridian was then the western boundary of the United States, and so continued until the Mexican war. This fact is important, because it settles the claim of the Cherokee Indians to No-Man's-Land adversely to the Indians. When the Cherokees were moved from Georgia to the Indian territory they were given by treaty "a perpetual outlet west and a free and unmolested use of all the country lying west of the western boundary of the above-described limits, and as far west as the sovereignty of the United States and their right of soil extend." The sovereignty of the United States, as already stated, extended only to the 100th meridian, and that is necessarily the western limit of the Indian territory and of the Cherokee outlet. "No subsequent acquisition of territory by the United States," says Land Commissioner William A. J. Sparks, "could extend the rights of the Cherokee nation beyond this limit," and Secretary Lamar approved. The 100th meridian is the eastern boundary of No Man's Land.

After the Mexican war Texas became a part of the United States. In fixing the boundary of the new state the negotiators for the state and for the United States ran against a snag. The snag was Mason and Dixon's line, or the parallel of latitude 36 degrees and 30 minutes north of the equator. Texas, as a republic, had claimed the land between the 100th and the 103d meridians north as far as the Arkansas river, and the claim had perforce, been allowed by Mexico. But, by a compromise between the slaveholders and the free-soilers in the United States congress, it had been agreed that no slave state should be created north of Mason and Dixon's line, and here was Texas, a slave state, coming in with slave territory extending north to the Arkansas river. To get rid of the obstacle the Texas statesmen ceded to the United States so much of her territory as lay north of the dividing line between slave and free soil. We thus have the parallel of latitude 36 degrees and 30 minutes north of the equator fixed as the northern boundary of Texas and the southern bounday of what is now No-Man's-Land. No-Man's-Land was then an unimportant part of a very wide area of unorganized territory.

Along in 1854 came the Kansas and Nebraska bill, by which Kansas was to be organized. The bill provided that the southern boundary of Kansas should be the parallel of latitude 36 degrees 30 minutes north, until the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas called the attention of the house of representatives to the fact that this would deprive the Cherokees of a large part of their lands in the Indian territory as given them by treaty, and the bill was, therefore, amended so that the 37th parallel was made the southern boundary of Kansas. The northern boundary of a part of No-Man's-Land was thus fixed.

Subsequently the organization of Colorado, with its southern boundary on the 37th parallel, completed the northern boundary of No-Man's-Land, while the organization of New Mexico, with the 103d meridian as its eastern boundary, left the strip of land between the 100th and the 103d meridians of longitude and the parallels of latitude at 36 degrees 30 minutes and 37 degrees wholly unorganized and beyond the pale of any territory or state. It was simply the property of Uncle Sam—a waste bit of pasture that he had overlooked in laying out the rest of his farm in patches for cultivation.

That it should have been overlooked in the course of legislation is not very surprising, but that it should be a part of the United States and yet be beyond the reach of United States courts and court officers is a matter needing explanation. This is the explanation: The jurisdiction of each United States court sitting in the states and territories round about No-Man's-Land is definitely defined by the bill that created the judicial district in which the court sits. No court takes cognizance of any crime committed beyond the limits of the territory that comprises its jurisdiction. Because No-Man's-Land was not within the limits of any of the surrounding states and territories it was, naturally enough, overlooked in defining the limits of the judicial districts. It is not included in any of the judicial districts. Now, it is provided by the United States constitution that "in all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime is committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law."

Before which court, therefore, shall the agent of the postoffice department, for instance, hale the road agent whom he has arrested for holding up a mail-carrier? Will not the road agent escape on the technical plea that the court, no matter which one it may be, has no jurisdiction?

Indian Country.

The entire extent of territory now in a state of reservation for Indian purposes, including all portions of the Indian territory, whether in fact occupied or unoccupied by Indians, is 112,413,440 acres, being equivalent to an average of 456 acres for each Indian, computed on the last reported number of the total population, including those estimated as outside the reservations. Of this area about 81,020,129 acres are within the scope of the general allotment law of 1887 and afford an average for the population residing upon such lands, amounting to 173,985, of about 465 acres to each. It will be seen that, by the execution of the general allotment law and breaking up of the reservations, a wide area of the public domain will be opened to settlement.

The Cherokees, Creeks, Choctaws, Chickasaws, and Seminoles, constituting the five civilized tribes; the Osages, Miamies, Peorias, and Sacs and Foxes of the Indian territory, and the Seneca nation in New York are excepted from the provisions of the allotment act. The territory occupied by them embraces 21,969,695 acres, not counting therewith the 6,024,239 acres of the Cherokee outlet, the 1,887,801 acres known as Oklahoma, and the 1,511,576 acres lying in the Indian territory south of the north fork of the Red river. The number of these excepted Indians is shown by the reports to be 72,110 in all.

Illiteracy.

The last census enumerates 36,761,607 persons of 10 years of age and upward. Of this number 4,923,451, or 13.4 per cent, are returned as unable to read, and 6,239,958, or 17 per cent, as unable to write. The following states show over 40 per cent of their population as unable to write: Alabama, 60; Florida, 43; Georgia, 50; Louisiana, 49; Mississippi, 50; New Mexico, 65; North Carolina, 48; South Carolina, 55, and Virginia, 41, and the following states with less than 5 per cent unable to read: Connecticut, 4; Dakota, 3; Illinois, 4; Indiana, 5; Iowa, 2; Kansas, 4; Maine, 4; Michigan, 4; Minnesota, 4; Montana, 5; Nebraska, 2½; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 5; New York, 4; Ohio, 4; Oregon, 4; Pennsylvania, 5; Utah, 5; Virginia, 5, and Wisconsin, 4.

The Copying Pad.

Put one ounce of glue to soak in cold water until pliable and soft. Drain off the surplus water and place the dish in another dish containing hot water. When the glue is thoroughly melted add six ounces of glycerine, which has been previously heated, and mix the two, adding a few drops of carbolic acid to prevent molding. Pour out this mixture into a shallow pan (9x12 inches) and set away to cool, taking care that the surface is free from blisters. After standing twelve hours it is ready for use. To use, write on a sheet of paper what you wish to duplicate with a sharp steel pen and strong aniline ink. When dry, lay the paper face down on the pad, pressing it lightly, and allow it to remain for a moment. On removing the paper an impression will be found on the face of the pad, and if another paper is placed upon it it will receive a similar impression. When enough impressions have been taken the face of the pad should be immediately washed with a sponge and cold water until the ink impression is wholly removed. If the surface of the pad becomes dry, wipe it with a moist sponge, and, if uneven, melt over a slow fire.

When a Man Becomes of Age.

The question sometimes arises whether a man is entitled to vote at an election held on the day preceding the twenty-first anniversary of his birth. Blackstone, in his Commentaries, book 1, page 463, says: "Full age in male or female is 21 years, which age is completed on the day preceding the anniversary of a person's birth, who, till that time, is an infant, and so styled in law." The late Chief Justice Sharswood, in his edition of Blackstone's Commentaries, quotes Christian's note on the above as follows: "If he is born on the 16th of February, 1608, he is of age to do any legal act on the morning of the 15th of February, 1629, though he may not have lived twenty-one years by nearly forty-eight hours. The reason assigned is that in law there is no fraction of a day; and if the birth were on the last second of one day and the act on the first second of the preceding day twenty-one years after, then twenty-one years would be complete; and in the law it is the same whether a thing is done upon one moment of the day or another." The same high authority (Sharswood) adds in a note of his own: "A person is of full age the day before the twenty-first anniversary of his birthday."

Immigration's Ceaseless Tide.

The chief of the bureau of statistics reports that the total number of immigrants arrived at the ports of the United States from the principal foreign countries, except from the dominion of Canada and Mexico, during the six and twelve months ending June 30, 1888, as compared with the same periods of the preceding year, was as follows:

Hand Grenades.

Take chloride of calcium, crude, 20 parts; common salt, 5 parts, and water, 75 parts. Mix and put in thin bottles. In case of fire a bottle so thrown that it will break in or very near the fire will put it out. This mixture is better and cheaper than many of the high-priced grenades sold or the purpose of fire protection.
